About ALA

Career planning begins long before you graduate. In fact, it is your first job. The American Library Association (ALA) is here to help you build marketable skills beyond the classroom — skills that are attractive to employers. Connecting with experienced professionals is invaluable to your career.

ALA members tend to create their own ALA experience by connecting with others with similar interests and goals, by exploring something new, and by getting involved. ALA offers a wide variety of ways to connect with colleagues across the country and around the world. This includes ALA divisions, round tables, offices, and all the individual connections you will make over time.

Join online at www.ala.org/groups/joint-membership-program.

To learn more about ALA and our divisions or round tables, visit www.ala.org or call 1-800-645-2433, ext 5.

About ULA

Student members of the Utah Library Association have the opportunity to gain experience outside of the classroom and learn more about the issues that affect our profession. Membership gives you networking and learning opportunities that will benefit your work life and connect you with your future. Find a mentor and be exposed to a wide variety of libraries and library issues. Student members are called upon not only to learn, but to lead. You have opportunities through Sections (Academic, Public, School, and Special), Committees, and Roundtables to build your résumé while serving the needs of the profession. Join hundreds of Utah library professionals dedicated to the future of Utah's libraries.

ULA Interest Groups

ULA Student Membership empowers you to participate in a wide range of professional issues, from standard library practices to emerging areas of innovation. The Utah Library Association offers Roundtables for librarians' every role (Reference & Adult Services, Youth Services, Administration & Management, Technical Services, and many more) as well as Sections by library type, and Committees (Intellectual Freedom, Conference Planning, etc.). Every group offers opportunities to connect with other students with similar interests and veteran professionals who can become resources, mentors, and even potential employers. ULA membership provides significant discounts on continuing education events like the annual state conference.
