SJSU ALASC Constitution

ARTICLE I (NAME)
The name of this organization shall be the American Library Association Student Chapter (ALASC) of the School of Information at San José State University.

ARTICLE II (PURPOSE)
Mission
The American Library Association Student Chapter at San José State University fosters community and connection among all students and across all career pathways within the School of Information.
Vision
ALASC is committed to providing an all encompassing, welcoming, and supportive environment for iSchool students to connect, collaborate and grow. To prepare our members and inspire our students for service as librarians, archivists, and educators, membership is open to all iSchool students free of charge and provides resources for professional development, scholarly opportunities and networking. Through ALASC, students can share their creativity, skills and experience, learn from each other and experts throughout the country and around the world, and connect with ALA both online and in-person. We believe that we can make a difference in the lives of our student members by implementing programs and services that enrich their scholastic and professional experiences. These opportunities will give students access to a new era of scholarship, innovation, and contribution on both local and global levels.
Value Statement
The American Library Association Student Chapter (ALASC) at San José State University was founded on May 17, 1994 with a history of service and encouraging achievement on behalf of our student members. As the 42nd official student chapter of the ALA, SJSU’s ALASC chapter has always supported our members’ efforts to excel in both their studies and in their professional lives.

ARTICLE III (AFFILIATION)
ALASC is affiliated with the national organization, the American Library Association, and serves as the local student chapter of the campus of San José State University. The ALA Constitution and Bylaws are available online.

ARTICLE IV (MEMBERSHIP)
All currently enrolled students of the San José State University School of Information Science (iSchool) are automatically members. Membership in the organization shall be open to all those matriculated, currently-enrolled San José State University students who are interested in membership. There shall be no other requirements for admission to regular membership. Each regular member has equal rights and privileges. Students indicate their ALASC membership by attendance at ALASC events, participation in ALASC online social networks, and/or volunteering to help with ALASC activities.

There are no membership meetings as such. ALASC events and functions, which are open to all iSchool students, occur in lieu of membership meetings.

Voting membership is restricted to matriculated, currently enrolled students at San José State University. At least eighty percent (80%) of all members of the organization must be matriculated, currently enrolled students at San José State University.

Eligibility for membership or appointed or elected student officer positions shall not be limited on the basis of race, religion, national origin, ethnicity, color, age, gender, gender identity, marital status, citizenship, sexual orientation, or disability. The organization shall have no rules or policies that discriminate on the basis of race, religion, national origin, ethnicity, color, age, gender, gender identity, marital status, citizenship, sexual orientation, or disability (Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Section 41500).

No member of this organization shall engage in hazing, participate in hazing, or commit any act that causes or is likely to cause bodily danger, physical harm, or personal degradation or disgrace resulting in physical or mental harm to any fellow student or person attending this institution (California Code of Regulations, Title 5, Article 2, Standards for Student Conduct, Section 41301(b)(8). Individual students may be disciplined for hazing under Section 41301(b)(8).

This organization shall comply with Title 5, Section 41301, Standards for Student Conduct.

ARTICLE V (OFFICERS)
The officers of ALASC shall consist of one Chair, one Co-Chair/Web Coordinator, one Newsletter Editor, one Social Media Manager, one Regional Event Coordinator, one Virtual Event Coordinator, one Secretary/Archivist, and one Treasurer. Terms of office shall be one academic year and shall include the time period between the election results of the current year and the election results of the following academic year. If a vacancy occurs in an office during the academic year, the Chair shall appoint a replacement. In lieu of direct appointments, the Chair may choose instead to hold a special election. If a vacancy occurs in the Chair’s office, the Co-Chair shall assume those responsibilities and appoint his or her own replacement.

ARTICLE VIII (NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS)
Nominations and elections of officers for the following academic year shall take place during a two-week period prior to the end of the previous academic year. Nominations will last for a period of one week, followed by a week of elections. There is no nominating committee. All ALASC members, as defined in Article IV, have the right to be nominated and the right to vote in elections. All ALASC members have the right to nominate candidates and self-nominate. Interested candidates may place their names on a nomination list or may have their names placed on the list by other individuals. Nominees must formally agree to their nominations. A list of the nominees shall be posted via official iSchool email lists. Members may add nominees to the list throughout the week. At the end of the week, nominations shall be closed. Elections of officers shall take place during the week following nominations. Voting requires being a member of ALASC. Members shall cast their vote online through the iSchool’s Learning Management System. All members are expected to complete the official ballot during the election period. If, for an excusable reason, a member is unable to vote during this time, s/he may contact the Faculty Advisor. At the end of the week, the ballots shall be counted by two officers not running in the following academic year, and the Faculty Advisor. Officers are elected by a plurality vote. Incoming officers are installed immediately after elections and before the start of the incoming academic year. In the event of a special election, the current Chair, Co-Chair, and Faculty Advisor will monitor the election. The Faculty Advisor shall count the ballots.
In keeping with ALASC’s mission to promote the value of and connect our members to ALA, all elected board members must maintain ALA membership throughout their term. Membership in ALA is not required to run for office, but is encouraged. If a non-ALA member is elected, the new officer should pursue ALA membership immediately.

ARTICLE IX (RESIGNATION/REMOVAL FROM OFFICE)
An officer may resign his or her office in a letter addressed to the Chair, stating the officer’s wish to resign and the effective date of the resignation.

Any member who is dissatisfied with the work of an officer may express his or her complaint in a letter to the rest of the Executive Committee. The Committee shall meet with the member to discuss the complaint. If the Committee decides to take no action or the member is still dissatisfied, the member can request to discuss the complaint with the Faculty Advisor. If the complaint cannot be resolved with the Faculty Advisor, a recall vote shall be held during the following week. ALASC members shall cast their vote by official ballot. If members vote to remove the officer from office, a new officer shall be nominated and elected.

ARTICLE X (ADVISOR)
ALASC must have a University advisor. This person must hold at least a bachelor’s degree and be employed as a faculty or staff member by San José State University. A Graduate Assistant/Intern may assume the advisor role if approved by the Student Involvement staff. The advisor shall be a non-voting member of the organization. The duties of the Faculty Advisor are as follows:

1. Assists ALASC in fulfilling its mission and purpose;

2. Understands the ALASC’s Constitution and Bylaws and assists members in interpreting them;

4. Stays abreast of ALASC’s activities;

5. Stays abreast of ALASC’s financial standing and all financial transactions using ALASC’s funds;

6. Attends ALASC’s meetings.

ARTICLE XI (COMMITTEES)
The Chair and Program Coordinator shall have the authority to name committees and committee chairpersons.

ARTICLE XII (DUES AND FEES)
No fees shall be assessed as a requirement of membership. Members are encouraged to make a nominal donation to finance the activities of ALASC.

ARTICLE XIII (AMENDMENTS)
Any ALASC member can originate an amendment to this Constitution. Proposed amendments shall be read at an Executive Committee meeting. After discussion at the Committee meeting, proposed amendments shall remain open for consideration by the Executive Committee over the next two weeks. Following the two weeks, the amendment shall be voted upon by the Executive Committee at their next meeting. The proposed amendment shall be adopted if approved by a majority. The adopted amendment shall be effective immediately. This Constitution and Bylaws were adopted August, 2000 and amended September, 2006; August, 2009; April 2012; and December 2013.
