About ALA

Career planning begins long before you graduate. In fact, it is your first job. The American Library Association (ALA) is here to help you build marketable skills beyond the classroom — skills that are attractive to employers. Connecting with experienced professionals is invaluable to your career.

ALA members tend to create their own ALA experience by connecting with others with similar interests and goals, by exploring something new, and by getting involved. ALA offers a wide variety of ways to connect with colleagues across the country and around the world. This includes ALA divisions, round tables, offices, and all the individual connections you will make over time.

Join online at www.ala.org/groups/joint-membership-program.

To learn more about ALA and our divisions or round tables, visit www.ala.org or call 1-800-645-2433, ext 5.

About NYLA

The New York Library Association leads, educates, and advocates for the advancement of the New York Library Community. Complete details on the benefits of membership can be found here: <http://tinyurl.com/y9ae4lra>

NYLA Interest Groups

Eight NYLA Sections United with One Voice.

There are as many specialties in librarianship as there are librarians, but NYLA's members have coalesced into eight sections that represent the major aspects of libraries and the people who serve them. All members may join a section as part of their basic membership fee, and can join additional sections for a small additional surcharge. By promoting the services that libraries provide, and providing a home for the broad specialties of librarianship, sections provide an invaluable service for members.
