A Memorial Resolution Honoring Julia Claire Blixrud

Whereas the Association for Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS), the American Library Association (ALA) and the broader library community lost a valued member, leader, and deeply engaged colleague on October 29, 2014, with the death of Julia Claire Blixrud;

Whereas Julia Blixrud was a tireless advocate for broader access to scholarly research and new models of scholarly communication;

Whereas Julia Blixrud was a proponent of library collaboration, best practices and standards in service of description and discovery of library resources;

Whereas Julia Blixrud worked for the Association of Research Libraries (ARL) for nearly 18 years, playing a variety of leadership and outreach roles with programs including Statistics and Assessment, Research Teaching and Learning, Leadership Development, Diversity, Membership, and Scholarly Communication, the focus of her final appointment as Assistant Executive Director for Scholarly Communication beginning in 2009;

Whereas Julia Blixrud was also instrumental in developing the Scholarly Publishing and Academic Resources Coalition (SPARC) where she served as Assistant Director for Public Programs from 1999 to 2009 and an active and enthusiastic contributor to the development of BioOne;

Whereas Julia Blixrud’s 35-year career in the library community also included positions at CAPCON and Minitex library networks, the Council on Library Resources, and the Library of Congress. She also served as project manager of the CONSER A&I Coverage Project for several years—an important effort to enrich the national serials database with abstracting and indexing information;

Whereas Julia Blixrud was broadly engaged in service to the library profession throughout her career, playing many roles in the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS), including chairing the President’s Program Committee and the Serials Section Executive Committee and serving as a committee member for these and several other committees;

Whereas for her work in serials, Julia Blixrud was awarded the CSA/Ulrich’s Serials Librarianship Award from the Association for Library Collections & Technical Services (ALCTS) in 2007 in recognition of her contributions to the advancement of serials librarianship. Her service and tireless outreach through presentations and publications were cited as “unparalleled”;
