ALA COUNCIL MINUTES

2016 ALA Midwinter Meeting
ALA Council/Executive Board/Membership Information Session
Saturday, January 9, 2016
3:00–4:30 p.m.
Westin Boston Waterfront Hotel, Grand Ballroom
Boston, Massachusetts

The customary information session was held in accordance with Policy A.4.2.5.2, which states that at least one joint session of the Membership and Council with the Executive Board shall be held for information only prior to other meetings of Council and Membership. The information session was convened at 3:00 pm on Saturday, January 9, 2016, in the Grand Ballroom of the Westin Boston Waterfront Hotel.

INTRODUCTIONS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS. Following the convening of the meeting, ALA President Sari Feldman introduced ALA Parliamentarian Eli Mina; ALA President-Elect Julie Beth Todaro; and ALA Executive Director and Secretary of the Council Keith Michael Fiels. ALA staff members assisting with the Council meetings were JoAnne Kempf, Director, Office of ALA Governance; Lois Ann Gregory-Wood, ALA Council Secretariat; Danielle Alderson, Projectionist; and Heather Theriaque, Captionist.

ALA PRESIDENT’S REPORT, ALA CD#21. ALA President Sari Feldman spoke of her presidential initiative that interfaces with ALA’s new, multi-year public awareness campaign—Libraries Transform, designed to increase public awareness on the ways libraries of all types transform people’s lives and our communities.

The multi-year campaign will include national media outreach, public service announcements, a social media campaign, and ongoing events. This campaign was launched in Washington, DC, in October 2015.

Feldman presented a short video highlighting the campaign messaging and how social media is effectively communicating and amplifying those messages.

Feldman said the ALA public awareness staff has developed an aggressive social media calendar for the next several months to keep the messages fresh, interesting, and engaging for target audiences. Jeff Julian was hired as the new ALA Director of Public Awareness to run this campaign. Jeff previously served as the Executive Director of Communications at Elgin (Illinois) Community College.

ALA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S REPORT, ALA CD#23. Keith Michael Fiels noted that his written report—distributed eight (8) times a year—encapsulates an incredible record of what is going on throughout the Association.

Fiels spoke of the reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), signed into law by President Barack Obama on December 10, 2015. This is the culmination of a ten-year effort by ALA members and staff to educate Congress on the important role that school libraries play in a student’s education. He said that reality is reflected in the language of this law.

Fiels mentioned that the ALA Center for the Future of Libraries, directed by Miguel Figueroa, produces a weekly newsletter providing articles to help libraries think about the future of their collections, spaces, services, partners, and roles in their community.

Fiels spoke of the second Sharjah International Book Fair/ALA Library Conference in the United Arab Emirates (UAE), November 10-12, 2015, at which ALA President Sari Feldman was the opening keynote speaker on Libraries Transform.

Fiels also introduced Jamie LaRue, newly appointed Director of the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom and Executive Director of the Freedom to Read Foundation. LaRue’s first day at ALA was January 4, 2016.

BUDGET ANALYSIS AND REVIEW COMMITTEE (BARC) REPORT, ALA CD#33. After reporting on the revenues and expenses for FY15, and providing an update on the FY16 budget, Ann M. Martin, BARC chair, reported the beginning preparation for FY17.

Martin informed the audience that the total FY16 ALA budgetary ceiling is $68,657,188. The ALA budgetary ceiling is determined by the net assets, comprised of the unexpended balance remaining from the fiscal year closing, plus revenue, which is anticipated income for the coming year.
Martin then provided FY16 first quarter highlights. She noted that the total revenues and the total expenses were slightly down, making the difference between them minimal for this time period.

General fund highlights are on budget. Expenses are on budget. Revenue in ALA Editions is less than budget due to higher book discounts and credits and lower online sales.

Division expenses were less than budget due to activities in AASL, PLA, and Choice. Division revenues were also less than budget. Accounting for this is the fact that all the revenues from the AASL national conference have not entered yet.

Round Table revenues are less than budget, as certain conference and related revenues have not been realized, primarily from the Ethnic & Multicultural Information Exchange Round Table (EMIERT) and ALA LearnRT. Expenses are less than budget as budgeted Midwinter Meeting-related expenses have not yet been realized or incurred. However, because revenues are higher than expenses, this leaves net revenue of $13,989.

Martin said this first quarter financial snapshot shows how close we are to budget, which is good news, and provides ALA with the direction needed to go into the next quarter.

Martin noted BARC is very proud to provide financial information to ALA members through its ALA Financial Learning Series, which include Budget Planning for a Pre-conference or One-Time Event; Organizational Structure; Budget Cycle and Process; The Operating Agreement; The Long-Term Investment Fund, and Round Tables Financial Orientation. The audience was invited to visit the Treasurer’s webpage that offers reports, resources, and links to the webcasts, along with more pertinent information.

ALA TREASURER’S REPORT, CD#13. Mario Gonzalez reported on the FY15 budget, which closed August 31, 2015. Budget results were audited by ALA’s auditor Mueller, LLP, in early November through December, 2015. The auditors met with the ALA Treasurer, ALA staff, and others involved with the budget process. Based on budget results, ALA remains a financially sound and strong organization and received the highest opinion from the auditors.
In reporting on the total ALA expenses and net revenues, Gonzalez said the ALA dues revenues were essentially flat, declining by $55,605.

ALA Publishing had a positive fiscal year 2015 with a net revenue of $630,000. Booklist had a strong year with a net revenue of $1.376 million. ALA Editions’ revenue was lower than projected, but that was offset by reductions in expected expenses. Digital resources, RDA, is finding its footing with improved revenue in most categories of its operations in its second year. Products and promotions also had a strong year. Publishing also contributed $3.2 million in overhead.

Short-term investments were up due to a change in the working capital policy at the 2014 Midwinter Meeting. At that time, the ALA Executive Board approved a transfer of $250,000 from the Endowment Fund. New grants were received from Dollar General, Gates Foundation, NEH, and AARP, and those added to the revenue impact. Total expenses were higher with grants and awards and conference-related activities. However, ALA spent what it received through grants, so the budget for the revenue and the expenses balanced.

The 2015 ALA Midwinter Meeting and Annual Conference revenue was up $1 million with higher registration, exhibits, and advertising.

The year-to-year comparison of the general fund revenues was higher by $758,000. This was offset by higher expenses of $1.1 million, leaving ALA with a net revenue of $279,000.

With regard to meeting and conference revenues and expenses, ALA had a very good annual conference in San Francisco. There were higher revenue figures in registration of $416,000; advertising of $294,000; and exhibit revenue of $351,000. The Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) National Conference was extremely successful. Their registration fees grossed $1.5 million; while exhibit fees stood at $964,000.

Higher revenue was realized by the round tables, in part because the Coretta Scott King Seal sales totaled $80,000; however, there were higher expenses across the board, which included a transfer of $10,000 from the International Relations Round Table into IRRT endowment, leaving the total 20 round tables net balance of $117,500. It was noted that 11 round tables had an increase in membership.
In closing, Gonzalez thanked the ALA finance staff Mark Leon, Keith Brown, Brad Greene, Joanne Lee, Denise Moritz, and Latasha Bryant, as well as Keith Michael Fiels and Mary Ghikas for help and guidance through the financial process.

ALA ENDOWMENT TRUSTEES REPORT, ALA CD#16. In reporting on the stock market’s poor performance over the past months, Rodney Hersberger, chair, said trustees were glad that ALA has diversified holdings. He then reviewed how the Endowment Fund directly supports the Association's activities and programs.

Hersberger then noted recent actions taken by the Endowment Trustees, which included:

- Conducting two new Trustees orientation with Investment Advisor and Staff;
- Adding two private equity managers to the portfolio;
- Conducting five Investment Advisor Request for Information (RFI) interviews;
- Continuing to meet in New York City to have access to a broader and deeper pool of available investment talent;
- Considering the investment of an additional $1 million in Social Responsible Investment (SRI) assets class, which will depend on Merrill Lynch’s impact study.

2016 ALA NOMINATING COMMITTEE REPORT, ALA CD#26-26.1. Larry P. Neal, chair, reported that by its June 12, 2015, deadline, the committee had secured several highly qualified candidates for ALA President-Elect and ALA Treasurer. The following persons were offered and accepted the nominations: ALA Vice-President/President-Elect: Sara Gaar Laughlin, Monroe County Public Library, Reference Department, Bloomington, IN, and Lisa Janicke Hinchliffe, Coordinator for Information Literacy, University of Illinois, Urbana, IL. ALA Treasurer: Susan H. Hildreth Executive Director, Peninsula Library System, San Mateo, CA, and Patricia (Patty) M. Wong, County Libraries/Archivist, Yolo County Library, Woodland, CA.

Between the time period of October and December 2015, both Sara Gaar Laughlin and Patty Wong had to withdraw from the election, due to family health issues.

After seeking guidance on a course of action to resolve this dilemma, the committee determined that the ALA bylaws were silent on this situation and thus the committee deferred to Robert’s Rules of Order, which only requires a single candidate for each position.

The committee subsequently met via conference call and decided to affirm its support for its two nominated candidates (ALA Vice-President/President-Elect candidate Lisa Janicke Hinchliffe and ALA Treasurer candidate Susan H. Hildreth), and to take no further action.

In accordance with ALA Bylaws Article III, Section 3 (b), the ALA Nominating Committee shall also include on the official ballot other nominations filed with the Executive Director by petition of any 25 members of the Association at least four months before the Annual Conference, provided written consent of these nominees shall have been filed with the Executive Director of the Association.

ALA Executive Director Keith Michael Fiels reported that petitions for the office of ALA President-Elect have been filed by Christine Lind Hage, Director, Rochester Hills Public Library, Rochester, MI, and James “Jim” G. Neal, University Librarian Emeritus, Columbia University, Butler Library, New York, NY.

Also, petitions with consent have been filed for the position of ALA Councilor-at-Large by Steve Brantley, Associate Professor and Head of Reference Services, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, IL; Terri L. Grief, School Librarian, McCracken County High School, Paducah, KY; Rochelle Hartmann, Adult Services Manager, LaCrosse Public Library, LaCrosse, WI; Sara Kelly Johns, Consultant and Speaker, School Library Programs, Saranac Lake, NY; Anita S. Kinney, Student, The Catholic University of America, Washington, DC; Edward L. Sanchez, Head of Library Information Technology, Raynor Memorial Libraries, Marquette University, Milwaukee, WI; and James K. Teliha, Director of Library and Learning Commons, Utica College, Utica, NY.

Electronic balloting will begin on March 15, 2016. Polls will close on April 22, 2016, at 11:59pm (central). The election results will be announced on April 29, 2016.

ADJOURNMENT. After several brief announcements, the meeting was adjourned.

• Ernest A. DiMattia, Jr. Award for Innovation, and Service to Community and Profession. ALA CD#7. The first-time award will be presented at the 2016 ALA Annual Conference in Orlando, FL.

• Resolution on Sustainable Libraries, ALA CD#36. ALA management has followed up with the Chair of the Sustainability Round Table, and is initially focusing on two areas related to sustainability: The “greening” of the Association’s physical facilities and the ALA Annual Conference and Midwinter Meeting. A report on ALA’s efforts at this Midwinter Meeting in Boston “Think Fit at Midwinter 2016” is available as ALA CD#9.1. Further reports will be provided on an ongoing basis, as will efforts to reduce our carbon footprint as an association and to support libraries of all types in their sustainability efforts within their communities.

• Resolution on improving Access to Spanish/Bilingual Books for Children in Detention Centers. ALA is actively supporting REFORMA's efforts to actually put books on the ground and, in addition, are looking at other options that we can, through policy, support the spirit of the resolution.

NEW BUSINESS:

RESOLUTION AGAINST ISLAMOPHOBIA, ALA CD#32_1716_ACT.
Councilors Christian Zabriskie and Lauren Comito moved “that the American Library Association, on behalf of its members: (1) recognizes the positive impact that Muslims have made in libraries and library science; (2) recognizes the contributions that Muslims have made to information and knowledge in fields such as science, mathematics, philosophy, medicine, and geography; (3) stands with our colleagues, community members, and users in speaking out against Islamophobia; (4) deplores the hate speech being directed at Muslims from every level of society; and (5) ALA will issue a public statement that condemns Islamophobia and stands with our Muslim colleagues and users.”
In speaking to the resolution, several councilors felt that the resolution in the 2nd resolved clause implied that only accomplished Muslims should not be subject to hate crimes. It was further expressed that although it was good to point out that many Muslims have accomplishments, ALA supports their right to basic human rights regardless of those accomplishments.

Following more discussion, the ALA Council, by CONSENT, amended the 2\textsuperscript{nd} resolved clause to read: “recognizes the contributions that Muslims have made to information and knowledge in field such as in regards to the sciences, mathematics, philosophy, medicine and geography;”

Council then

ADOPTED, Resolution Against Islamophobia, ALA CD#32_1716_ACT, as amended to read: “That the American Library Association, on behalf of its members: (1) recognizes the positive impact that Muslims have made in libraries and library science; (2) recognizes the contributions that Muslims have made to information and knowledge in regards to the sciences, mathematics, philosophy, medicine and geography; (3) stands with our colleagues, community members, and users in speaking out against Islamophobia; (4) deplores the hate speech being directed at Muslims from every level of society; and (5) ALA will issue a public statement that condemns Islamophobia and stands with our Muslim colleagues and users.”

ADJOURNMENT. After several announcements, the meeting was adjourned.
The second meeting of the ALA Council during the 2016 ALA Midwinter Meeting was convened at 10:00am on Monday, January 11, 2016, in the Grand Ballroom of the Westin Boston Waterfront Hotel.

QUORUM. A quorum was established at the beginning of each meeting.

ESTABLISHING THE AGENDA, ALA CD#8.2_REN_11016_ACT_7:30PM. By CONSENT, the ALA Council adopted the ALA Council II agenda, as amended, to move the Resolution Concerning Accessibility of ALA Conference and Meetings for People with Disabilities, ALA CD#31_Rev_11016_ACT, and the Resolution on Replacing the Library of Congress Subject Heading “Illegal Aliens” with “Undocumented Immigrants,” ALA CD#34_1016_ACT, to the Council III Agenda.

POLICY MONITORING COMMITTEE REPORT, ALA CD#17_ACT. In accordance with A.4.2.6, the Policy Monitoring Committee reviewed all actions taken by the ALA Council during the 2015 Annual Conference for possible incorporation into, addition to, or changes to the ALA Policy Manual.

Councilor Vicky Crone, chair, moved and the ALA Council APPROVED, ALA CD#17, Items 1–3 as follows:

Item #1-2. At the 2015 ALA Annual Conference, the ALA Intellectual Freedom Committee recommended and the ALA Council separated the Policy B.2.1.7 Labeling and Rating Systems into two new interpretations (Labeling Systems, ALA CD#19.4 and Rating Systems, ALA CD#19.5).

Based on Council’s action, PMC MOVES INSERTION of the new interpretations as follows:

B.2.1.7 Labeling Systems
Labels as viewpoint-neutral directional aids are intended to facilitate access by making it easier for users to locate resources. The prejudicial label is used to warn, discourage, or prohibit users or certain groups of users from accessing the resource. The prejudicial label presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. The American Library Association affirms the rights of individuals to form their own opinions about resources they choose to access.
Reference File”: Labeling Systems: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights, 2014-2015 ALA CD#19.4); and

B.2.1.8 Rating Systems

Many organizations use or devise rating systems as a means of advising their opinions of the content and suitability or appropriate age or grade level for use of certain materials. However, the American Library Association affirms the rights of individuals to form their own opinions about resources they choose to read or view. Libraries are not required to provide ratings in their bibliographic records. If they choose to do so, they should cite the source of the rating in their catalog or discovery tool displays to indicate the library does not endorse any external rating system.
Reference File”: Rating Systems: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights, 2014-2015 ALA CD#19.5)

Item #3. At the 2015 ALA Annual Conference, the ALA Intellectual Freedom Committee recommended and the ALA Council adopted ALA CD#19.3, Internet Filtering: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights.

Based on Council’s action, the PMC MOVES INSERTION of the following abstract into the ALA Policy Manual under B.2.1.18, Use of Filtering Software in Libraries (which will be renumbered as B.2.1.18 based on Items 1-2 above:

B.2.1.18 Use of Filtering Software in Libraries (new numbering)

B.2.1.18.1 Internet Filtering. The negative effects of content filters on Internet access in public libraries and schools are demonstrable and documented. Consequently, the American Library Association cannot recommend filtering. However, the American Library Association recognizes that local libraries and schools often must rely on federal or state funding for computers and Internet access. Because adults and, to a lesser degree minors, have First Amendment rights, libraries and schools that choose to use content filters should implement policies and procedures that mitigate the negative effects of filtering to the greatest extent possible.

Information Items:
The old B.2.1.7 Labeling and Rating Systems will be retired to the ALA Policy Manual’s historical files.

The current B.2.1.8 through B.2.1.23 would be renumbered to B.2.1.9 through B.2.1.24.

- Donna Scheeder, President, International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA), is the first U.S. President of IFLA since Robert Wedgeworth (1991–1997).

- Columbus, Ohio, August 13–19, 2016, will host the IFLA World Library and Information Congress (WLIC).

- The International Relations Office obtained a $50,000, 2015 Laura Bush 21st Century Library Program grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) to provide fifty (50) $1,000 scholarships to help a diverse group of librarians, library staff, and library students in the United State attend the WLIC.

ALA participation in the tour was made possible thanks to the offer from Leslie Burger, IRC chair, to oversee the tour after it was initially organized by the Friends of the Princeton Public Library where Burger serves as its director.

- IRC received a request to bring forward to Council a proposal from the Polish American Library Association to affirm and support the rights of Polish librarians and library workers to travel to the US without a visa by encouraging Congress to support the Visa Waiver Program Enhanced Security and Reform Act. After some consultation and discussion, the IRC has decided not to move forward with the recommendation for the visa waiver. IRC agreed that the generality of the Act and potential for ALA to be approached by many other countries with a similar request precludes support from ALA.

CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS COMMITTEE REPORT, ALA CD#25_1916_ACT. Jim Rettig, Constitution and Bylaws Committee chair, moved and Council

APPROVED, the application of the Joint Council of Librarians of Color to become an affiliate of the American Library Association.
At the 2015 ALA Annual Conference, the Constitution and Bylaws Committee proposed an amendment to Article X of the ALA Constitution. Article X deals with affiliation of external organizations with ALA, as well as with ALA or its subdivisions affiliating with an external organization.

The ALA Council referred the proposed amendment back to the Constitution and Bylaws Committee for further consideration. The proposal did not adequately state Council’s role in approving affiliation requests. Council members also raised questions about the meaning of the word “subdivision” in the Constitution.

Additional research by ALA Headquarters Library staff, supplemented by work by the Committee to examine the Constitution, the Bylaws, and the Policy Manual, has provided a fuller picture of history of Article X since 1907 to the present. The Committee’s research also determined that “subdivision” referring to parts of the Association is used only in the Constitution and the Policy Manual.

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee has shared this information with the Committee on Organization and recommended that it develop a definition of “subdivision.” That could result in a need to change the Bylaws to include that definition as an appropriate article of that document.

At this time, the Constitution and Bylaws Committee proposes no amendment to Article X of the ALA Constitution.

FREEDOM TO READ FOUNDATION (FTRF) REPORT, ALA CD#22_11016_INF. Julius C. Jefferson, Jr., FTRF President, updated Council on cases in which the FTRF is currently involved:

- United States v. Moalin. This case argues that the government should not be permitted to engage in warrantless searches and seizures of phone metadata because that metadata reveals information about individuals’ expressive and associational activities that should be protected by both the 1st and 4th U.S. Constitutional Amendments. The underlying case arose as a criminal prosecution and involves the defendant’s request for a new trial based on the government’s failure to disclose that evidence used against the defendant was gathered through the National Security Agency’s bulk phone metadata surveillance program without a warrant.
The brief asserts that, given the realities of the digital age that require individuals to entrust their metadata and content to third-party communications companies, this doctrine should be set aside and the government required to obtain a warrant whenever it seeks to access metadata that reviews information about a user’s associations and expressive activities.

- Wikimedia v National Security Agency. The lawsuit challenges the NSA’s practice of using “upstream surveillance” to intercept international communications as they travel across the Internet’s backbone and was filed by the ACLU on behalf of a number of legal, education, and human rights organizations. On October 23, 2015, the district court dismissed the lawsuit on the grounds that the plaintiffs failed to provide factual evidence of how NSA actually was using its program to search and seize communications. The plaintiffs are currently considering an appeal to the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. The amicus brief points out that individual users are likely to avoid challenging the law for fear the content of their communications would be reviewed.

- Arce v. Douglas (formerly the Arce v. Huppenthal). This lawsuit was filed by teachers and students in Tucson Unified School District against the Arizona Superintendent of Public Instruction and other state officials that challenges the constitutionality of the Arizona statute prohibiting the use of class materials or books that encourage the overthrow of the government, “promote resentment toward a race or class of people,” are “designed primarily for pupils of a particular ethnic group,” or “advocate ethnic solidarity instead of the treatment of pupils as individuals.”

The 9th Circuit issued a mixed opinion in the case, handing the plaintiffs both a defeat and a victory. It held that the district court’s determination concerning the constitutionality of the statute was correct, finding that, with the exception of the provision banning courses designed for students of a particular ethnic group, the statute, as written was neither overbroad or vague in violation of the Constitution. However, it reversed the district court’s grant of summary judgment for defendants on plaintiffs’ equal protection claim and remanded the claim and the plaintiffs’ First Amendment viewpoint discrimination claim to the district court for further proceedings.

FTRF continues to monitor the lawsuit and is prepared to assist the plaintiffs as they pursue their claims before the district court.
Jefferson then updated Council on other cases and activities that FTRF was involved in or monitoring.

At the 2015 ALA Annual Conference, the ALA Council referred the Resolution against Mass Surveillance of the American People, ALA CD#42_62615_ACT, to the ALA Committee on Legislation (COL) and the Intellectual Freedom Committee (IFC), for a response.

At ALA Council III, June 30, 2015, the COL and IFC presented a joint substitute resolution entitled Resolution on the Passage of the USA Freedom Act and Reaffirming ALA’s Commitment to Surveillance Law Reform, ALA CD# 20.3 & CD#19.6, which following some debate, the ALA Council referred the substitute and original resolution (ALA CD#42) back to the COL and IFC.

Representatives from Intellectual Freedom Committee (IFC), Committee on Legislation (COL), Social Responsibilities Round Table (SRRT), and Council formed a Working Group to review the resolutions based on Council’s debate during the 2015 Annual Conference. A small drafting subgroup was formed to create a draft revision... of the resolution, which was reviewed and supported by the entire Working Group. The revised draft resolution was forwarded to Council, and the comments received were very positive with no substantive changes suggested.

The COL and IFC, with SRRT participation, discussed the final draft of the resolution at this Midwinter Meeting and jointly recommend Council’s consent to replace the previously referred resolutions with this newly drafted Resolution for Restoring Civil Liberties and Opposing Mass Surveillance, ALA CD#19.1 and CD#20.1.

   a. require government agencies to obtain judicial warrants before collecting any individual’s personal information from third parties and require court approval for National Security Letters;

   b. raise the standard for government collection of all records under FISA from “reasonable grounds” to “probable cause” and sunset Section 215 of the USA PATRIOT Act (commonly known as the "library records" section);

   c. limit the government’s ability to use information gathered under intelligence authorities in unrelated criminal cases, thereby making it easier to challenge the use of illegally obtained surveillance information in criminal proceedings; and
d. prohibit the government from requiring hardware and software companies to deliberately design encryption and other security features to facilitate government access to information otherwise protected by such features;

2. recommits itself to leadership in the fight for restoration of the public’s privacy and civil liberties through statutory and other legal reforms; and
