Cathy Doyle explained that some progress had been made on this year’s project, My Accreditation Coach, but that a snap library renovation had left her unable to devote substantial time to this project. We do have a wiki and a draft of guidelines for the program. ACRL has been contacted about rolling over money for the webinar until next year (Note: After conference this was approved.)

The rest of the meeting was devoted to editing the document provided by Laura Rein. Laura will produce another draft soon.
