LPSS COMMITTEES

Much of the work of LPSS is carried on by committees. Except for the Executive Committee, whose members are elected by the Section membership, all committee members and chairs are appointed by the Vice-Chair / Chair-Elect of the section and serve for either one or two year terms.

Currently the active committees of the Law and Political Science Section are:
-- Communication and Publications Committee
-- Conference Program Planning Committee
-- Executive Committee
-- Marta Lange/SAGE-CQ Press Award Committee
-- Membership Committee
-- Nominating Committee
-- Professional Development Committee
-- Review and Planning Committee
-- Vendor/Publisher Review Committee

Note: All committee meetings, except meetings of the Marta Lange/SAGE-CQ Press Award Committee and the Nominating Committee, are open to all members of ALA.

CHECKLIST FOR COMMITTEE CHAIRS

Preliminaries:

Checklist for Nominating Committee Chair

1. Obtain an LPSS membership roster from section Vice-Chair / Chair-Elect, in order to ascertain eligibility (all nominees must be members of LPSS). A list of recent nominees is also helpful. Plan to consult with fellow committee members or make copies of the roster for them.

2. Ascertain offices to be filled by consulting with LPSS Chair and Vice-Chair / Chair-Elect.

3. Prepare slate of two candidates per office, with back-up names in priority order should a nominee decline or withdraw.

4. Contact potential nominees and describe the position for which they are being asked to run and the term of office (with beginning and ending dates). Send the potential nominee the appropriate position description from the section manual. If the person is undecided about accepting or rejecting the nomination at that moment, negotiate a date by which he or she will give an answer and arrange to re-contact at that time.

5. Provide each nominee with an up-to-date copy of the LPSS manual. Offer to provide names of people who can answer additional questions.

6. When candidate has agreed to run, send her or him a letter of thanks and an ACRL Biographical Form, with instructions to send the completed form to the appropriate ACRL Program Officer and a copy to you to confirm acceptance of the nomination.

7. When written confirmation has been received from all nominees, notify the appropriate ACRL Program Officer Section chair, and Nominating Committee members of the slate.

Professional Development Committee
