

ACRL 2005 Excellence in Academic Libraries Award Winners

Award-winning services @ your library[®]

Excellent libraries are:

An important part of the campus
learning community

Connecting students and faculty with a world of knowledge

Investing in the future while preserving the past

@ Pierce College

A national leader in student learning outcomes assessment, they also collaborate with the community to provide the INTEL Computer Clubhouse, where students can explore creativity and master effective learning skills.

@ Mount Holyoke College

The library team provides leadership in the campus planning process, in designing new learning spaces and services, and in creatively combining the college's library, computing, and media services.

@ University of Virginia

Through innovation, responsiveness and partnerships across campus, they are building digital collections, providing faculty technology skill development, and delivering student-centered services.

Who makes it all happen?
Your librarians—
the ultimate search engines @ your library[®]

50 East Huron Street • Chicago, IL 60611
www.ala.org/acrl • e-mail: acrl@ala.org sponsor of the Excellence in Academic Libraries award