DRAFT OF MOTION:

Move to make Washington, DC the site of the 2010 Annual Conference and New York the site of the 2013 Annual Conference.

DATE: April 5, 2007

BACKGROUND:

When the ALA Executive Board was asked to approve New York as the 2010 site for the Annual Conference, it was done with the stipulation that the Javits Convention Center would be renovated and expanded. While plans are to do so are proceeding, the construction will not be completed by June of 2010. Therefore, it was necessary to find a new site for that Annual Conference.

Washington DC, where ALA was already scheduled in 2013, was able to accommodate ALA in 2010. Switching 2010 (to DC) and 2013 (to New York City) provides New York City with the additional time needed, without creating significant disruption in ALA's conference schedule. Existing New York City contracts will be moved to 2013.
