MISTY COPELAND
National Library Week Honorary Chair

As the first African American principal dancer at the American Ballet Theatre, Misty Copeland’s leadership inspires young people to pursue their dreams regardless of the challenges they encounter. She is the author of several bestselling books, including Ballerina Body, published in March 2017.

LIBRARIES LEAD