Celebrate National Bookmobile Day

Wednesday, April 10, 2019

For over a century, bookmobiles have delivered the world to their communities. Providing books, technology, and resources for lifelong learning, bookmobiles play an important and integral role in delivering library services in the United States.