

Questions for current students:

1. Are you taking courses at the main campus or at one of the regional sites? If a regional site, which one.
2. Do you have appropriate access to the technical resources and information resources to be successful in your coursework?
3. Have you been able to construct a coherent program of study? Have you sought the advice of an advisor, and was the advisor helpful in developing your program of study?
4. Have you been able to take the courses you need to pursue your own area of interest? Do you have opportunities to participate in the course selections that will be available in your location?
5. Has the school and your program met your expectations? In what ways has it or hasn't it?
6. Have you currently been involved in decision-making on school matters? Have you been surveyed concerning curriculum changes, the accreditation process? Were you involved in the hiring process for new faculty or the dean?
7. Are you able to participate in the extracurricular activities of the school? Do you feel that these activities have enhanced your experience and learning?
8. How would you rate the advising process? Did you consider your advisor a mentor? How and how often do you interact with your advisor?
9. Are your instructors approachable? Do you feel that they are knowledgeable in the subject areas? If you took courses taught by national faculty (i.e. adjunct faculty as opposed to full time faculty), have they been well prepared both as to content and as instructors?
10. Please provide any additional feedback you feel the external review panel would find useful.
