About ALA

The American Library Association (ALA) works for students by advocating for increased library funding and the ongoing development of the profession. Through our accreditation program, ALA ensures that the training you receive will prepare you for your chosen career.

Job Resources

ALA will help you with resources to find your first job and to remain competitive. ALA student members have access to the best network of career and professional development resources for library workers.

Divisions and Round Tables

You need more than classwork to be fully prepared for your career. Joining ALA divisions and round tables is an excellent way to build experience in your specialty by meeting and working with longtime professionals. Student members can take advantage of ALA resources like résumé review services, job placement events, and car & home insurance.

To learn more about ALA and our divisions or round tables, visit www.ala.org or call 1-800-645-2433, ext 5.

About OLA

Student members of the Oregon Library Association have a unique opportunity to broaden their experience outside of the classroom. OLA is composed of library professionals and staff from academic, public, school and special libraries throughout the state. Your membership offers access to the networking opportunities that will benefit your work life and connect you with your future. Join OLA and learn about librarianship and information management. OLA offers a mentor program, as well as, resume review for new librarians. Student members are called upon not only to learn, but to lead. Your work life is accelerated through your membership in OLA. There are opportunities through committees and work groups to build your resume while serving the needs of the profession.

OLA Interest Groups

OLA student membership empowers you to participate in a recognized area of service and a wide range of professional issues, such as intellectual freedom, library technology, and more. The Oregon Library Association offers divisions for the librarians' every role (academic librarian, children's services, young adults, schools, public libraries, etc.), and round tables identified by members for the times. Every group offers opportunities to connect with other students who have similar interests and veteran professionals who can become resources, mentors, and even potential employers. If you are interested in more information on these groups, do not hesitate to visit <http://www.olaweb.org/ola-units>. If after reviewing you would like to join groups, visit <http://www.olaweb.org/join-now> for membership price, if any. For additional membership benefits information, visit <http://www.olaweb.org/benefits>.
