In Memoriam
Mary W. George, long term production editor of the Agency Liaison Reports as well as UNESCO Liaison, passed from this life unexpectedly on August 9. She served for many years as Senior Reference Librarian and European Union Specialist at Princeton University. Her colleagues and other friends at Princeton and broadly in ALA and the library world mourn her passing.

Canadian Official Publications

Canadian Government

One of the first initiatives undertaken by the new Liberal government is to reinstate the Canadian long-form census. The next census, which takes place every five years, is scheduled to take place in 2016, with the data to be released the following year. The long form census was terminated in 2011 and was replaced by the voluntary National Household Survey (NHS) under the former Conservative government.

Statistics Canada

The Canadian Data Liberation Initiative (DLI) announced the availability of over 120,000 PDFs of digitized Statistics Canada numbered series publications dating back to the early 1970s. The University of Alberta is currently hosting the material on a protected DLI site for Canadian DLI members. Stay tuned - Statistics Canada will be making the entire collection publicly accessible via Public Works and Government Services of Canada as soon as they can.

Library and Archives Canada (LAC)

LAC will be closing two of their regional offices – the Pacific Regional Federal Records Centre in Burnaby, British Columbia - and a records office in Halifax, Nova Scotia by the end of 2016.

LAC is seeking a co-location partnering arrangement whereby LAC would provide on-site reference services and client access to LAC’s collections, workshops and exhibitions, a forum for the direct sharing of knowledge and expertise, and opportunities for joint promotion and programs. Consultations for co-locations are underway.

Canadian Government Information – Digital Preservation Network (CGI-DPN)

The CGI-DPN (http://plnwiki.lockss.org/wiki/index.php/Main_Page) continues with their preservation work for Canadian federal government publications. Over the last few months, the group ensured that the former Conservative government federal websites were captured and preserved.

Digital Initiatives
• University of Victoria: Vancouver Island Local Government Collection
  Caron Rollins, Government Information Librarian at the University of Victoria completed a project digitizing the municipalities of Vancouver Island. The Vancouver Island Local Government (VILG) collection is available at https://archive-it.org/collections/4532. In 2016, Simon Fraser University and the University of British Columbia plan to continue the work for the remaining British Columbia regions. This work builds upon the work done by the CGI-DPN.

• University of Toronto: Government Information Registry
  Margaret Wall, a librarian at the University of Toronto since 2008, is currently on research leave to create a registry of government information digitization projects. For further information, see http://govinforegistry.blogspot.ca/

Ontario’s Government Information Day
Ontario’s Government Information Day (GID), which originated with the success of Vancouver, B.C.’s annual GovInfo Day, was held on December 7, 2015. The annual event provides an opportunity for those in libraries, archives, and academic and government institutions, to share information, interests and concerns in the field of government information. This year the Ontario event was hosted by Wilfrid Laurier University and the University of Waterloo, topics included government information partnerships, updates from Library and Archives Canada, preservation, metadata and web archiving.

Miscellaneous

• Council of Canadian Academies report:

United Nations Economic Commission for Africa – ECA
www.uneca.org

The Economic Commission for Africa (ECA) is one of the UN's five regional commissions and was established by the United Nations (UN) Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) in 1958. “ECA's mandate is to promote the economic and social development of its member States, foster intra-regional integration, and promote international cooperation for Africa's development.” ECA provides technical advisory services to African governments, IGOs, and institutions, and is also the “regional arm of the UN.”

ECA has seven thematic areas of focus: Macroeconomic Policy, Social Development, Regional Integration and Trade, Natural Resource Management, Innovation & Technology, Gender, and Governance. Five Sub-Regional Offices (SROs) also take the lead in their respective sub-regions.

Publications and Information

Many publications are available for free download under the “Publications” menu. Publications are divided into essential readings, flagship reports, policy reports, and policy briefs. They are also browseable in a single long list. Additionally, each of the thematic areas of focus and SROs also has a “publications” link for its own publications.

Recent essential and flagship publications include:

Publications and Documentation Section (PDS)
Public Information and Knowledge Management Division
Economic Commission for Africa
P.O. Box 3001
Addis Ababa, Ethiopia
E-mail: ecainfo@uneca.org
Fax: +251-11-551-4416

Knowledge Services Section

In addition to providing core services for ECA Library users, the ECA Knowledge Services Section hosts an institutional repository and the Access to Scientific/Socio-economic Knowledge in Africa (ASKIA) portal.

- The ECA Institutional Repository (http://repository.uneca.org/) contains published resources including flagship publications, journal articles, conference proceedings, technical reports, mission reports, annual reports, working papers, speeches and other grey literature dating back as far as 1958. The ECA IR is built on Dspace and complies with Dublin Core Metadata Initiative (DCMI) standards, using AGRIS Application Profile, which maps MARC21 metadata to Simple Dublin Core, and MODS metadata sets exposed through the Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (OAI-PMH) protocol.

- The Access to Scientific and Socio-economic Knowledge in Africa (ASKIA) (http://askia.uneca.org/askia/) federated search portal is described as a “framework for bringing together scientific and socio-economic information for the African community,” but as a powerful discovery tool that cross-searches open access repositories for articles, books, and other sources, it could be extremely useful not just in Africa but for searchers across the globe and most disciplines. (For example, it turned out to be especially strong at finding digitized historic primary sources tucked in repositories around the world.)
Statistics

The ECA Databank, StatBase (http://ecastats.uneca.org/statbase/), is a platform for “the compilation and dissemination of statistical data on various socio-economic indicators on African countries.” It includes indicators in a variety of areas such as agriculture, economics, energy, environment and climate change, exchange rates, government finance, inflation, Millennium Development Goals, monetary statistics, social and demographic statistics, the Sustainable Development Report for Africa V, and trade and balance of payment.

United Nations Economic Commission for Europe – ECE

www.unece.org

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) was established in 1947 by the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). As one of five regional commissions of the United Nations, its primary purpose is the promotion of pan-European economic integration, and its 56 member countries are distributed throughout the European Union, non-EU Western and Eastern Europe, South-East Europe and Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS), and North America. Any UN member may participate in UNECE’s work, and over 70 international professional organizations and other non-governmental organizations are involved in UNECE activities.

The UNECE “promotes sustainable development and economic prosperity” through: policy dialogue, negotiation of international legal instruments, development of regulations and norms, exchange and application of best practices as well as economic and technical expertise, and technical cooperation for countries with economies in transition. Its areas of expertise include: economic cooperation and integration, environmental policy, forests, housing and land management, population, statistics, sustainable energy, trade, and transport.

Publications and Information

Many publications are available for free download under the “Publications” menu (http://www.unece.org/publications/oes/welcome.html), and each of the thematic areas features topical publications as well. Recent publications of interest include:
• Statistics of Road Traffic Accidents in Europe and North America (http://www.unece.org/index.php?id=41891)
• Measuring Change in the Socio-Economic Conditions of Migrants (http://www.unece.org/index.php?id=40542)
• UNECE Countries in Figures 2015 (http://www.unece.org/index.php?id=38549&L=0)

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations – FAO

www.fao.org

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations – FAO, leads international efforts to defeat hunger. FAO serves both developed and developing countries as a neutral forum where all nations can meet to negotiate agreements and debate policy. FAO is also a source of knowledge and information. FAO’s web pages are an excellent free resource for anyone who is looking for any kind of international agricultural statistics or other information.

Recent Publications Published By FAO (Viewable Online, Found at the Publications Page: http://www.fao.org/publications/en/)

Featured publication:

- The State of Agricultural Commodity Markets 2015–16 (SOCO)
  This edition of The State of Agricultural Commodity Markets aims to reduce the current polarization of views on the impacts of agricultural trade on food security and on the manner in which agricultural trade should be governed to ensure that increased trade openness is beneficial to all countries. By providing evidence and clarity on a range of topics, the report seeks to contribute to a more informed debate on policy choices and to identify required improvements in the policy processes within which these choices are made.

Other Recent Publications:

- Status of World’s Soil Resources
- Foot Wastage footprint & Climate Change
- Mapping the Vulnerability of Mountain Peoples to Food Insecurity.
- International Online Conferences on the Economics of Climate Change Mitigation Options in the Forest Sector.

Human Development Reports
http://hdr.undp.org/

For a quarter century the United Nations landmark series Human Development Reports has forged a new platform for social, cultural, economic and political study and understanding on a global basis. The worldwide Global Report is issued annually or every other year. Regional reports are often annual, while national reports are issued every few years. Recently, concepts of sustainability, the environment, and climate change have become important as well. Both reports and an overall data bank are freely available on the HDR web site. Major reports can often also be purchased in paper for a nominal cost from Oxford University Press or other publishers.

The Human Development Report series is published by the United Nations Development Programme with input from many other agencies and sections of the world body. It provides solid and well grounded data and narrative accounts for conditions in the world at the broadest level. Combining social indicators, beginning with Infant Mortality and Life Expectancy at Age One, and then adding in national macroeconomic indicators such as GDP and Trade, the Human Development Reports set out to offer useful measures of the combined economic and social situation of the world’s people within nations, regions, and globally. The Human Development Reports are issued in more than twenty languages, in both print and online editions.

Global Reports
The most recent Global report released is the Human Development Report 2015: Work for Human Development. In addition to the regular paper and online print editions. for the first time the global Human Development Report is also available in an interactive web edition. As to theme, the 2015 Report focuses on Work and Jobs, proposing that while Employment has been out of fashion for quite some time, [we can still] bring it back to the centre of development discourse and development plans. For too long, we put our faith in growth-led employment strategies. But that did not happen in many societies; and we have witnessed jobless growth in many economies. So instead of growth-led employment strategies why don’t we think of employment-led growth strategies, where productive and remunerative jobs are created where poor people live, which will create demand and lead to more work resulting in an upward spiral of jobs and growth [Lead Author’s speech at the launch ceremony for the 2015 Report. Viewed on UNDP web, December 2015.]

National and Regional Reports
National and Regional Reports are issued every few years for individual regions and countries. Some recent ones are Ethiopia in 2015 and in 2014 Congo, Moldova, Papua New Guinea, and Tanzania.

Databases
Five databases of indicators are maintained by the HDR Office. These are elements closely related to human development, and are drawn from a variety of public international sources. They represent the best statistics available.
They are released annually and are available without charge on the HDR web site
- The Human Development Index (HDI)
- The Inequality-Adjusted Human Development Index (IHDI)
- The Gender Development Index (GDI)
- The Gender Inequality Index (GII)
- The Multidimensional Poverty Index (MPI).

International Labour Organization – ILO http://www.ilo.org/global

In a rapidly globalizing world where poverty and income inequality can create political instability or even natural and manmade disaster, the reasoned tripartite work of ILO offers a remarkable measure of hope. That is, drawing alike on workers, management, and regulatory bodies to seek productivity and decent work alike, ILO charts a course that often works to improve work for all. Further, ILO’s publications are well researched and yet practical. Current highlights include the following.

Renouf Provides All ILO Titles.

The International Documents Community continues to be well served in that Renouf Company which provides a full range of ILO publications, including back files, and is the source for ILO in the U.S. and more broadly.

Databases
- EPLex - Employment protection legislation database
- International Chemical Safety Cards (ICSC)
- LABORDOC n - ILO Library's database, powerful portal accesses a wide range of resou
- LEGOSH - Global database on occupational safety and health legislation
- NORMLEX - Database on International Labour Standards
- NATLEX - database of national labour, social security and related human rights legislation
- Skills for Employment Global Public-Private Knowledge Sharing Platform
- Working Conditions Laws Database.

Statistics
- ILOSTAT - ILO database of labour statistics - Newer
- LABORSTA - Database of labour statistics – Being phased out
- Labour Force Surveys
- Monitoring Programme on Child Labour (IPEC-SIMPOC)

Current Titles of Special Note

"Provides an update on key youth labour market indicators and trends, focusing both on the continuing labour market instability and on structural issues in youth labour markets. Offers valuable lessons learned on ‘what works’ for youth employment and on emerging practices in policy responses.” ILO web.

“The explosive rise of East Asia and continuing importance of Central America and Mexico have shifted the center of world export manufacturing from the North Atlantic to the Pacific Rim. These original essays consider how the ILO has helped generate a set of ideas and practices, past and present, transnational and within a single nation, to advance social and economic reform in this vast region.” ILO web.

International Maritime Organization - IMO

http://www.imo.org/

“IMO – the International Maritime Organization – is the United Nations specialized agency with responsibility for the safety and security of shipping and the prevention of marine pollution by ships.” The organization currently has 171 Member States and three Associate Members.

IMO has over 200 titles available in English. Many are also available in French, Spanish, Arabic, Chinese and Russian. Most of the currently available titles are listed in the February 2015 Publications Catalogue and can be ordered online or purchased from 23 U.S. distributors. Publications issued in 2015 can be found on the IMO’s Just Published: 2015 page.

A few of the titles that have appeared since June 2015 include:

- The IMO-Vega Database (V20), 2015 Contains up-to-date texts of core IMO requirements as well as pollution prevention and safety-related documents in English. Price £700.

- Ships’ Routeing 2015 edition, Establishes an international and mandatory systematic way for ships to follow predetermined routes to avoid hazards to navigation at sea. Price £120.

- Annual Report on Exchange Arrangements and Exchange Restrictions (AREAER)
  The 66th issue of the AREAER was released in October 2015. The Overview describes in detail how the general trend toward foreign exchange liberalization continued during 2014, alongside a strengthening of the financial sector regulatory framework. A Special Topic essay examines the dynamics and evolution of capital flows.
  The AREAER is available in several formats: online and print. Both the print and online versions include the annual Overview. The printed Overview includes a CD-ROM with detailed information for each of the 191 member countries and territories. In 2016, a new AREAER online platform will be released. Additional information on this update will be available in the spring.
  AREAER Online contains historical data published in previous issues of the AREAER. It is searchable by year, country, and category of measure and allows cross-country comparisons for time series. Institutions that subscribe to IMF eLibrary Complete will gain integrated access to all components of IMF eLibrary—including the AREAER Online components—through single-sign-on and IP authentication.

- Release of New IMF Multimedia Book
  In November 2015, the IMF released a new multimedia book: Collapse and Revival: Understanding Global Recessions and Recoveries. This book tracks the global business cycle through the destruction of a global recession to the renewal of recovery, drawing on four major episodes in the past half century. The authors define key terms, document the main features of a recession and recovery, and describe the major events that take place around these episodes. They also put the latest global recession and ongoing recovery in perspective and analyze the interactions between global and national growth.
  A companion website and DVD provide several unique tools to help readers understand the basics: interactive timelines, videos of author interviews, several regional reports explaining the impact of the collapse, as well as dramatic coverage of the Lehman Brothers bankruptcy, and more.
  Visit the IMF eLibrary microsite devoted to this multimedia book at: www.recessions.imf.elibrary.org
  Additional information on this book can be found at: www.imfbookstore.org/collapseandrevival

- IMF eLibrary (www.elibrary.imf.org)
  IMF eLibrary continues to offer more than 15,000 publications with a rich archive, full MARC records, full text searching, and individualized alerts for new content. The IMF collection continues to grow as new material is added each day.
  Video tutorials to help users navigate the new features are available on YouTube and on the Help tab of eLibrary.

Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development – OECD
http://www.oecd.org

2016 ALA Midwinter (Boston) Report

The OECD consists of 34 member countries. The last expansion was in 2010. In May 2013, the OECD decided to launch accession discussions with Colombia and Latvia; in April 2015, it invited Costa Rica and Lithuania to open formal OECD accession talks. Key partners are Brazil, China, India, Indonesia, and South Africa. Many of the same statistics collected for member countries are collected for these nations. The OECD has co-operative relations with more than 70 non-member economies.

OECD iLibrary is the platform hosting OECD publications and data. All books and papers published since 1998 as well as statistics with data back to the early 1960s are included. All site visitors have read access to all OECD publications as well as to a small percentage of open access titles and web books such as the OECD Factbook. A subscription offers additional access to premium content and features such as PDFs; tables and graphs presenting the underlying data from publications; and ready-made tables extracted from databases by OECD statisticians; links from data to related analytical publications; research and technical support, training, and subscription management features such as MARC records and COUNTER-compliant usage statistics. It allows download for off-line use, search within a document, copy/paste, calculate, print, data archive, and bulk download data. It also allows perpetual access to all previously subscribed publications including databases. The data archive is only available to subscribers and delivers data and metadata in csv format. In July 2015, in a move to make data open, 100% of OECD data became accessible to all users in a basic form ‘as is’. Training and technical support is only available to OECD iLibrary subscribers. International Energy Agency’s (IEA) data is not included and is largely available only through subscription through the OECD iLibrary platform. In addition, there are separate subscriptions to Nordic publications (about 60% English in the Norden iLibrary) and the Commonwealth iLibrary.

For those looking to free up additional shelf space, in addition to the previously mentioned content the OECD has digitized OECD Economic Outlook back to 1967, OECD Economic Surveys back to 1961, OECD Observer and OECD Yearbook back to 1962, and the European Conference of Ministers of Transport Round Tables from 1954 forward.

In academia, a frequent request is for the originally published figures as well as historical forecasts. Most databases tend to replace actuals with forecasts as they become available as well as the latest revisions to actuals. This makes it difficult to know what was available at a given point in time (the information to which policy makers would have made decisions and to which investors would have reacted). OECD iLibrary has replaced the archive CD-ROMs of the statistical databases with an online archive data service in CSV format.

The OECD continues to produce monographs and working papers on development, economic cooperation, education, energy and environment, foreign aid, information communication & technology, labor, migration, science & technology, taxation, and transportation. Publications cover not only OECD nations but others as well. A few notable examples are:

- Applying Modeling to Improve Health and Economic Policy Decisions in the Americas: The Case of Noncommunicable Diseases
- Boosting Malaysia’s National Intellectual Property System for Innovation
- Connecting with Emigrants: A Global Profile of Diaspora 2015
- Corporate Governance of Company Groups in Latin America
- Disaster Risk Financing: A Global Survey of Practices and Challenges
- The Economic Consequences of Climate Change
- Fiscal Redistribution in Middle Income Countries: Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Indonesia, Mexico, Peru, and South Africa
- Fiscal Sustainability of Health Systems: Bridging Health and Finance Perspectives
- Green Growth in Bangkok, Thailand
- The Labour Market Impacts of Obesity, Smoking, Alcohol Use and Related Chronic Diseases
- Measuring Well-Being in Mexican States
- Public Expenditure Projections for Health and Long-Term Care for China until 2030
- State-Owned Enterprise Governance: A Stocktaking of Government Rationales for Enterprise Ownership
It is also important to remember the many ongoing serials that provide data and insight into many world issues. With the crisis in Syria, sources such as the International Migration Outlook are particularly important. Another regular publication is Mental Health and Work. National profiles are being produced for member states with the most recent ones focusing on Australia and Austria.

OECD will not be exhibiting at ALA but Sales and Marketing Officer, Nilar Andrea Chit Tun will be available. It is with great sadness, I report that long time USA and Canada Deputy Head, Kathleen DeBoer, is retiring. Kathleen has been our steady contact and partner for many years. Her successor is Iain Williamson.

Example of Using Readex Collections for Research on International Topics
San Francisco Conference Founds the United Nations: A Look Back through Three Readex Collections

Beginning on April 25, 1945, as World War II entered its final months, delegates from dozens of nations gathered at the War Memorial Opera House in San Francisco. Their goal was the creation of an international organization that would lessen the chances of a third global conflict. The meeting’s official name was the United Nations Conference on International Organization (UNCIO), but it was more typically called the San Francisco Conference.

The participants debated the institutional framework that had been negotiated earlier in the year by the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and the United States at Dumbarton Oaks in Washington, D.C. Chaired by U.S. diplomat Alger Hiss, and addressed by President Harry Truman, the San Francisco Conference ultimately produced the United Nations Charter, which was signed on June 26, 1945.

Readex collections offer three different ways to see real-time accounts of this historic meeting. The first is through the daily press accounts in America’s Historical Newspapers. The actions of the delegates in the build-up to the final charter can be traced through news stories, editorials, opinion columns, photographs and cartoons.

Opinion from abroad can be found within Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS) Daily Reports, 1941-1996. This Readex collection provides access to information gained through open source intelligence in order to inform the views of U.S. government decision makers on world events. A “Roundup of Radio Reaction to the San Francisco Conference,” captured from broadcasts after the U.N. charter was signed, and translated into English as needed, appears in an FBIS Report dated June 28, 1945. Included are viewpoints from Japan and Satellites, China, Great Britain, France, the U.S.S.R., Sweden, Bulgaria, Spain, and Mexico.

In addition to America’s Historical Newspapers and FBIS Daily Reports, the U.S. Congressional Serial Set, 1817-1994, provides a third way to learn about the founding of the United Nations. Among these official government publications is a discussion on appointing representatives to various committees of the new organization and one titled “The Charter of the United Nations? Address of the President of the United States delivered before the Senate on July 2, 1945, presenting the charter of the United Nations for the maintenance of international peace and security together with the statute of the International Court of Justice annexed thereto.”

The 2016 online subscription renewal season is coming to a close and it has proven to be far busier that in the past. Budget constraints are affecting all libraries, especially in Canada where their dollar has dropped over 20% against the US dollar. Overall the organizations have been understanding and have been flexible with their pricing when the situation was warranted. Presently, Renouf has online subscription clients with under 2,500 FTEs due to the fact we were able to negotiate a price that fit in with their budget. Our goal in 2016 is to try and expand our online sales into smaller institutions so that more users have access to the vast amounts of information that is available on the various platforms.

Renouf’s website provides information on the special offers currently available to new subscribers to the OECD iLibrary, World Bank eLibrary, UNWTO eLibrary, UN COMTRADE, Commonwealth iLibrary and NORDEN iLibrary. If you are interested in a free 30-day trial access period to any of the products or would like to discuss the pricing options for your library, please contact us at serials@renoufbooks.com Renouf provides full service on the print titles being published by the organizations the company represents and you will find approximately 50,000 publications, with descriptions, on its website www.renoufbooks.com. The following is a selection of new and noteworthy titles that have been added to the site.

- Collapse and Revival: Understanding Global Recessions and Recoveries (978 1 48437-041-4) The authors track the global business cycle through the destruction of a global recession to the renewal of recovery, drawing on four major episodes in the past half century. Through detailed analyses, they pinpoint key developments that occurred during each event so that the world can use the information to forge better tools to predict and prevent destructive crises and promote global recoveries.

- Fiscal Sustainability of Health Systems: Bridging Health and Finance Perspectives (978-92-64-23337-9) Prepared by both public finance and health experts, this report provides a unique detailed overview of institutional frameworks for financing healthcare and includes a comprehensive mapping of budgeting practices and governance structure in health across OECD Countries.

- FRASCATI Manual 2015: Guidelines for collection and Reporting Data on Research and Experimental Development. (978-92-64-23880-0) The internationally recognised manual has been updated and includes improved guidelines reflecting recent changes in the way R&D takes place and is funded and the wider uses of R&D statistics and definitions.

- Fukushima Daiichi Accident (6 volumes and 5 CD-ROMS) (978-92-0-107015-9) This report is the result of an extensive international collaborative effort involving approximately 180 experts from the 42 member states. It provides a description and context of the accident, a safety assessment, looks at emergency preparedness and the response efforts, deals with the radiological consequences and the post-accident recovery period.

- Global Monitoring Report 2015/2016: Development Goals in an Era of Demographic Change (978-1-46480-669-8) This year marks the end of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and the launching of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). This report presents the latest global poverty numbers and examines the pact of development progress through the lens of the evolving global development goals.

- International Trade Statistics 2015 (978-92-870-3988-0) The annual report provides a detailed overview of the latest developments in world trade, covering both merchandise and services trade as well as trade measured in value-added terms.

- Journalism at Risk (978-92-871-8120-6) In this book, 10 experts from different backgrounds analyse the situation at a time when high-quality, independent journalism is more necessary than ever and they explore the challenging issues facing journalists in democratic societies.

- Key Indicators of the Labour Market (KILM) Ninth Edition (978-92-2-130121-9) Harvesting data information from international data repositories as well as regional and national statistical sources, the KILM offers data for over 200 countries and includes a set of key indicators that provide a strong foundation from which to address important questions related to productive employment and decent work.
• Migration and Development: Perspectives from Small States (978-1-84929-133-0) This book explores the key dynamics of migration and development in a small states setting and includes cases from Africa, Caribbean and the Pacific that will help policy-makers to embrace migration as an inevitable phenomenon and devise policies that will maximize the benefits from migration at a minimal cost.

• Progress of the World’s Women 2015-2016: Transforming Economies, Realizing Rights (978-1-63214-015-9) The report shows that women’s economic rights and social rights are held back because they are forced to fit into a “man’s world”. It brings together human rights and economic policy making and provides elements for a new policy agenda that can transform economies and make women’s rights a reality.

• UNESCO Science Report: Towards 2030 (978-92-3-100129-1) Written by 50 experts from around the world, the report provides country-level information on the trend and developments in science and technology and innovation policy and governance between 2009 and 2015. It provides essential baseline information on the concerns and priorities of countries that could orient the implementation and drive the assessment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the years to come.

• World Migration Report 2015: Migrants, and Cities, New Partnerships to Manage Mobility (978-92-9068-709-2) The report aims to consider migration as a defining factor alongside climate change, population growth, demographic change and economic crisis in shaping sustainable cities of the future. It showcases innovative ways in which migration and urbanization policies can be better designed for the benefit of migrants and cities.

• World Report on Ageing and Health (978-92-4-156504-2) Comprehensive public health action on population ageing is urgently needed and the report outlines a framework for action to foster Healthy Ageing built around the new concept of functional ability. The actions recommended aims to give older people the freedom to live their lives that previous generations might never have imagined.

• World Trends in Freedom of Expression and Media Development: Special Digital Focus 2015 (978-92-3-100127-7) Explores emerging opportunities and challenges for press freedom in the digital age with a focus on online hate speech, protections of journalism sources, the role of internet intermediaries in fostering freedom online and the safety of journalists.

The United Nations Industrial Development Organization – UNIDO
http://www.unido.org

UNIDO is the specialized agency of the UN that seeks to advance industrial development for poverty reduction, inclusive globalization and environmental sustainability.

The mission of UNIDO, as defined by the 2013 Lima Declaration, “is to promote and accelerate inclusive and sustainable industrial development (ISID) in developing countries and economies in transition. . . .” The organization’s programmatic focus includes three thematic priorities, each representing a different aspect of inclusive and sustainable industrial development:

- creating shared prosperity
- advancing economic competitiveness
- safeguarding the environment.

The combination of these priorities is clearly visible in publications of the organization. A few important titles from 2015, which can all be accessed or ordered from UNIDO’s Publications page, include:

- 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development: Achieving the industry-related goals and targets. This brochure outlines the organization’s plans for helping the UN to realize the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development—a set of goals which build upon the work of the Millenium Development Goals and which were adopted by the UN General Assembly in September 2015.

- Making It, UNIDO’s freely accessible quarterly magazine. The most recent issue includes articles on sustainable development in an era of climate change, and the role of gender equality in promoting development

- The SADC [Southern African Development Community] Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency Status Report, 2015. This free publication presents a comprehensive perspective for southern Africa on recent developments in renewable energy and energy efficiency.

- Structural Change and Industrial Development in the BRICS. This title, co-published with Oxford University Press, includes a comprehensive historical and comparative overview of the structural economic changes of Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa (BRICS). Price: $110.

  Trade Capacity Building Resource Guide 2015. “This [freely accessible] . . . compilation . . . will significantly contribute to increasing the transparency and efficiency of trade-related technical assistance and its benefits for countries and peoples in their efforts to stimulate trade-led economic growth, increased employment and the creation of wealth.”

Highlights:

1. World Bank eLibrary Updates
2. Notable Reviews
3. Webinars/Training
4. Notable Recent and Forthcoming Releases
1. World Bank eLibrary Updates

World Bank Data Added to the World Bank eLibrary

Time series for more than 50 of the most popular indicators from World Bank’s World Development Indicators have been added to help World Bank eLibrary subscribers find the latest data and research on developing countries as quickly as possible. The integration of indicators allows World Bank eLibrary users to access publications and data in one place. Data can be accessed from each Region and Country browse and via the new Data tab along the top navigation bar, which includes the option to view all indicators and all regions and economies with data available.

Indicators are presented in five themes: Population, Environment, Economy, States and Markets, and Global Links. Clicking on any indicator displays that indicator across all available countries; clicking on any country name shifts the view to all indicators available for that country. See a data page here. Data are presented in time series, with some data available as far back as 1960. Researchers in subscribing institutions can select up to five years and download the results.

Data enhancements will be carried out through the coming summer, including the addition of more indicators, the ability to see related data in search results, and the ability to view and download more indicators and years at the same time. Your feedback and suggestions on how we can improve the data experience in the World Bank eLibrary are always welcome!

Full Text Online for Recent Chapters and Reference Linking for Content from 2014 Onward

Full text is available for approximately 1,850 chapters since 2014. The full text view includes a figure viewer, table viewer, and reference linking, among other features. Reference linking is included in journal articles as well, with CrossRef links taking users to the original source on the publisher’s website (when available).

Tools for Training and Increasing Awareness

- Several new video tutorials have been added to the World Bank eLibrary site to show library staff and users how to take advantage of the site’s features, as well as increase usage of the World Bank eLibrary. The new tutorials are found on the World Bank eLibrary site at http://elibrary.worldbank.org/page/using_elib

- In addition, a video highlighting the features and content in the eLibrary has been added at http://elibrary.worldbank.org/page/promo_materials. We encourage subscribers to post and share it via your social media channels to promote awareness and to remind instructors your library is subscribed.

- The World Bank eLibrary webinar training series will continue with a webinar focused at users on February 10th at 10:30am EST. (Check the eLibrary website for further details in mid-January.)

2. Notable Reviews (Excerpts)

- Review of the IMF eLibrary, OECD iLibrary, and World Bank eLibrary in LPSS News, Volume 30, Number 2, Spring 2015. “…With different content emphases, these databases are more complementary tools than competitors. All three are highly useful resources for libraries who serve social sciences researchers, especially those who research policy, globalization, international relations, and economics.” - By Nadine Hoffman, Catherine Morse, and Annelise Sklar (Chair). Read the full review at http://www.alalibrary.org/sites/alacrl/files/content/aboutacrl/directoryofleadership/sections/lpss/lpsswebsite/publications/newsletter/lpss30-2.pdf

- Review of Shared Prosperity and Poverty Eradication in Latin America and the Caribbean in CHOICE: “…The editors highlight the importance of equity and inclusive policies, such as access to education, health care, and social protections, and they emphasize the need to remain committed to this approach while noting the tremendous variability across countries in their poverty reduction outcomes. To achieve the World Bank’s twin goals of promoting shared prosperity and eradicating extreme poverty by the year 2030, the editors assert that considering the region’s overall performance is inappropriate for policy design. Rather, they contend that country-specific analysis is essential to correctly tailor anti-poverty policies to individual countries. --L. W. Young, Southern Oregon University. Summing Up: Recommended. Upper-division undergraduates and above. The full review is available at: http://www.cro3.org/content/53/03/53-1390.full

- Review of Latin America and the Rising South: Changing World, Changing Priorities in Foreign Affairs: “In the 1960s, economic theorists divided the world into a hegemonic industrialized “North” and an exploited and impoverished “South.” In this dense, data-rich milestone of a study, a group of World Bank experts argue that the rise of the Southern economies—including those of Brazil, Mexico, and other countries in Latin America—has disrupted this simple dichotomy and created a more differentiated and inter-twined international economy.”

3. Webinars and Training

Save the date! World Bank eLibrary Webinar for Students on February 10, 2016 at 10:30am EST. This webinar will model strategies for researching data and publications on a particular topic and comparing them across a region or time frame. Details to follow on the World Bank eLibrary website or contact onlineresources@worldbank.org.

In addition, onsite or virtual training for the World Bank eLibrary is available at any time. Recordings of following webinars are available at elibrary.worldbank.org/page/training. Dates for future webinars are posted on this page as well. To request an onsite or online demo for your institution, contact Devika Levy at dlevy@worldbankgroup.org.

4. Notable Recent and Forthcoming Releases

Disease Control Priorities is a nine volume series which focuses on health interventions intended to reduce morbidity and mortality

Essential Surgery demonstrates surgery’s contribution to global public health. Data on the surgical burden of congenital anomalies, disease, disability, and trauma are presented, along with health and economic analyses of procedures, platforms, and packages to improve care in settings with severe budget limitations. Readers will gain comprehensive knowledge of the challenges and successes found in implementing surgical care strategies within low- and middle-income countries. Available Now. (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0346-8). US$35.00

Reproductive, Maternal, Newborn, and Child Health focuses on the need for family planning, preventive care and public health platforms in order to improve reproductive health of pregnant women. Forthcoming January 2016 (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0348-2). US$35.00

- Disease Control Priorities Third Edition, Volume 3 – Cancer

Cancer is part of a nine volume series for Disease Control Priorities which focuses on health interventions intended to reduce morbidity and mortality. Volume 3, Cancer, presents the complex patterns of cancer incidence and death around the world and evidence on effective and cost-effective ways to control cancers. This volume focuses on various forms of cancer, treatment, research and its economic impact. Available Now. (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0349-9). US$35.00

- Doing Business 2016

- Global Economic Prospects, January 2016

The January 2016 edition of Global Economic Prospects discusses current global and regional economic developments and prospects, analyzing key challenges and opportunities confronting developing countries. This

- Live Long and Prosper
  Live Long and Prosper discusses the societal and public policy challenges and reform options for EAP countries as they address aging. It aims to strike a balance between aging optimists and pessimists. On the one hand, the impacts of aging on growth, labor markets and public spending are not the unavoidable catastrophe often feared. However, minimizing the downside risks of aging and ensuring healthy and productive aging will require proactive public policy, political leadership, and new mindsets across society. Available Now (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0469-4). US$35.00

- Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia
  Urbanization presents South Asia with the opportunity to reach development's upper echelons of prosperity and livability, but the region's cities have struggled to cope with the pressures of population growth. This book analyzes the challenges which face South Asia's cities, and the actions needed to better leverage urbanization. Available Now. (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0662-9). US$35.00

- Shock Waves
  Ending poverty and stabilizing climate change will be two unprecedented global achievements and two major steps toward sustainable development. But the two objectives need to be jointly tackled through an integrated strategy. This report brings together those two objectives and explores how they can more easily be achieved if considered together. Available now. (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0673-5). US$29.95

- The Welfare of Syrian Refugees
  The book assesses the poverty and vulnerability status of Syrian refugees living in Jordan and Lebanon and evaluates the performance of policies towards refugees. This joint study by the World Bank Group and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees helps bridge the historical divide between humanitarian and development work by providing practical solutions for assisting refugees in the short, medium and long-term and to prevent the irreversible loss of social and human capital typically associated with prolonged refugee crises. Available Now (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0770-1). US$35.00

- World Development Report 2016
  The World Development Report 2016 shows that while the digital revolution has forged ahead, its “analog complements”—the regulations that promote entry and competition, the skills that enable workers to access and then leverage the new economy, and the institutions that are accountable to citizens—have not kept pace. And when these analog complements to digitinvestments are absent, the development impact can be disappointing. Forthcoming January 2016. (ISBN: 978-1-4648-0671-1). US$35.00
