

American Library Association Student Membership

The American Library Association (ALA) works for students by advocating for increases in library funding and ongoing development in the profession. Through our accreditation program, ALA ensures that the training you receive will prepare you for the career you have chosen. We will help you with resources to find your first job and to remain competitive. Next Generation ALA members have access to the best network of career and professional development resources for library workers.

You need more than just classwork to be fully prepared for your career. Joining ALA Divisions and Round Tables is an excellent way to build experience in your specialty, meeting and working with long-time professionals on common goals and projects. Joining the New Members Round Table (NMRT) will ensure that you get the most from your ALA Membership. Student members can take advantage of ALA resources such as resume review services, job placement events, and health, dental, and life insurance. Working on ALA committees and task forces can also help build your resume and make you a stronger candidate to future employers.
