

About the Author

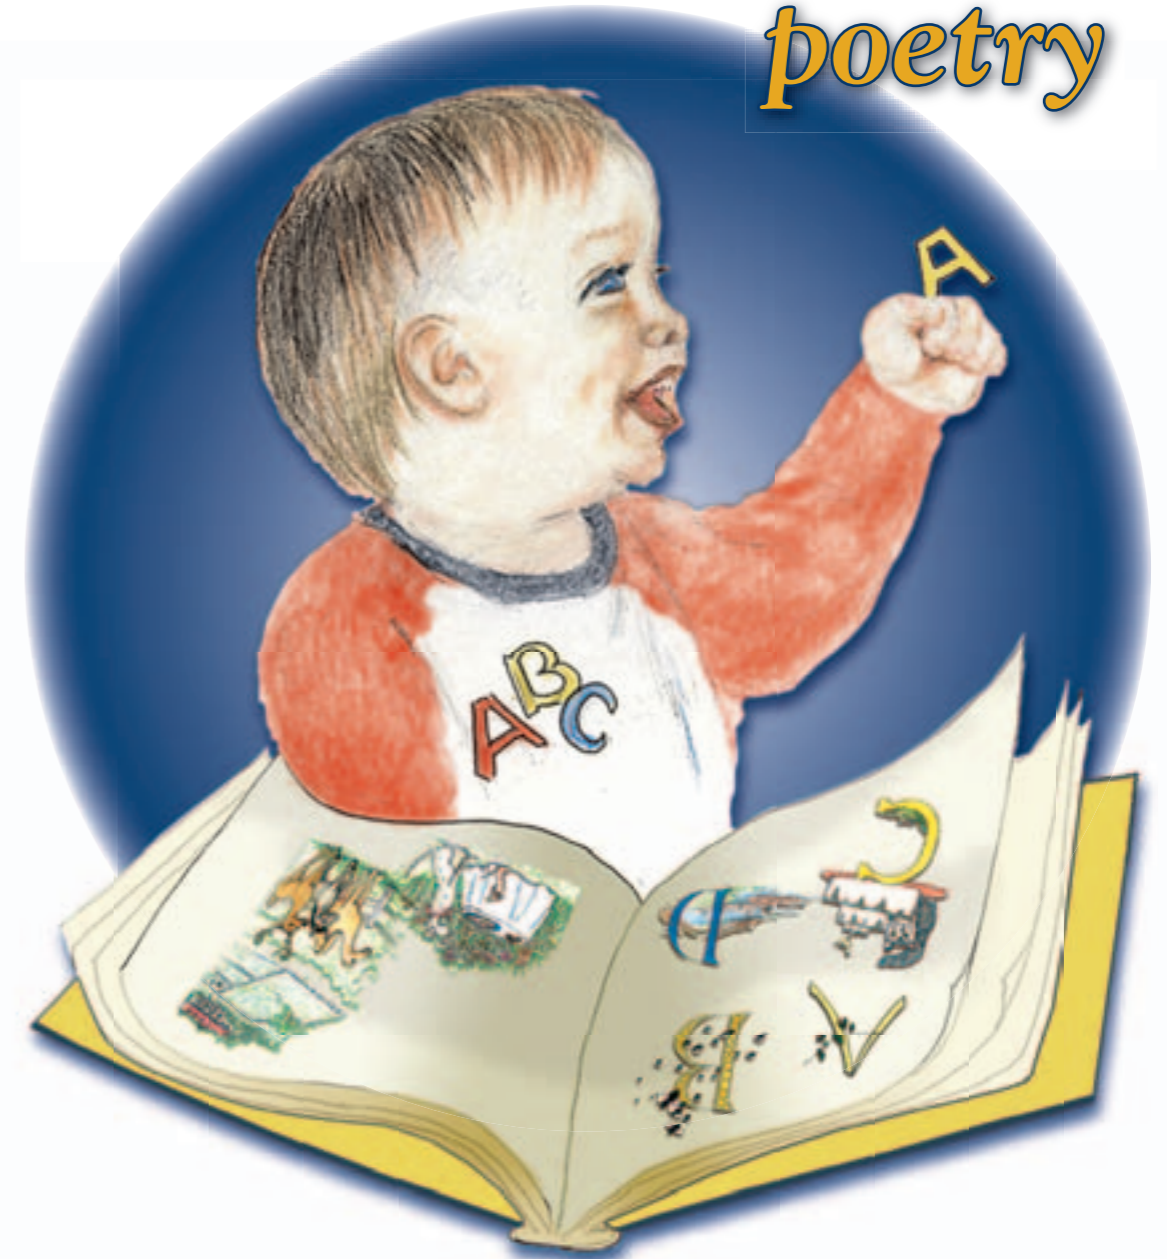

Linda Chambers is a published poet who lives with her husband, Steven, in rural northern Nevada. She enjoys ranch life that includes the training of adopted mustangs. Painting, storytelling and gardening are her favorite pastimes. Linda studied at the University of Barcelona, the Sorbonne in Paris, and Westminster College in London before returning to the United States to complete her degrees in Language Arts, Spanish, and Philosophy. Her mother, Betty Lou Kandelin Lally, taught English in the San Fernando Valley and inspired Linda's love of words from a young age. To read more about Linda Chambers and her work you may visit her web site at www.lindachambersbooks.com.

About the Illustrator

Linda Walker is best known for her paintings of wildlife and western subjects. She is a signature and artist member of several prestigious art groups. She has garnered many coveted awards for her painting and has been the featured artist at wildlife art shows throughout America. Linda's work can be found in galleries across the country. Having spent most of her life in Southern California, Linda now resides with her husband Greg beside a lake in Northern Minnesota. To view Linda's work or read more about her you may visit her web site at www.lindawalkersart.com.

A B C

poetry

Written by Linda Kandelin Chambers

Illustrated by Linda Walker

Xlibris

ISBN: 0-0000-0000-0

9 781401 045791