
CRITICAL INFORMATION LITERACY & THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

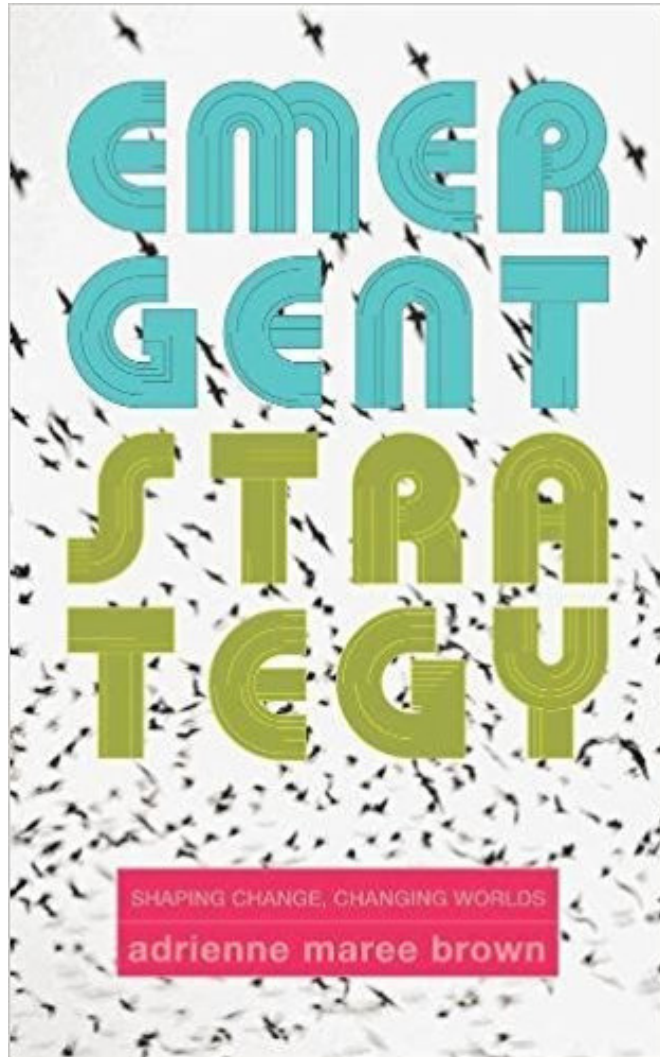

PREPARED BY / AMITA LONIAL

"At its core, critical information literacy is an attempt to render visible the complex workings of information so that we may identify and act upon the power structures that shape our lives."

EAMON TEWELL

In The Library With The Lead Pipe

"...Rather to see our own lives and work and relationships as a front line, a first place we can practice justice, liberation, and alignment with each other and the planet."

ADRIENNE MAREE BROWN

GUIDING FRAMEWORK

Who produces information?

What power structures inform that knowledge production?

How does that help us understand our inquiry and/or ourselves?
