This list has been compiled for use by the general reader and by librarians who work with adults. The titles have been selected by the Notable Books Council, ALA Reference and Adult Services Division, for their significant contribution to the expansion of knowledge or for the pleasure they can provide to adult readers. Titles were selected from books published from November 1991 through October 1992 that demonstrate wide general appeal and literary merit.

FICTION

- Auster, Paul. Leviathan. Viking. In this suspenseful and complex novel, a writer ponders the death of a friend and fellow writer and pieces together the events that defined his life.
- Brown, Rosellen. Before and After. Farrar. A family's love and loyalty are sorely tested when the teenage son is accused of murdering his girlfriend.
- Butler, Robert Olen. A Good Scent from a Strange Mountain. Holt. These short stories evoke past trauma and express the contemporary vulnerability and joy of Vietnamese living in Louisiana.
- Duncan, David James. The Brothers K. Doubleday. This novel set in the 1960s depicts a family torn by its two religions—baseball and Christianity.
- Hoffman, Alice. Turtle Moon. Putnam. Danger and love await Lucy Rosen and her son, Keith, as they begin a new life in the magical world of Verity, Florida.
- Kenan, Randall. Let the Dead Bury Their Dead and Other Stories. HBJ. Inventive stories of the inhabitants of a place called Tims Creek, North Carolina, explore the emotional, sexual and racial limits of human character.
- Maxwell, William. Billie Dyer and Other Stories. Knopf. Charming stories of Lincoln, Illinois, in the early 1900s blend fiction and memoir.
- McCarthy, Cormac. All the Pretty Horses. Knopf. This evocative and exuberant novel describes John Grady Cole's coming-of-age in Mexico during the 1940s.
- Moore, Alison. Small Spaces Between Emergencies. Mercury House. Compelling short stories of everyday life capture moments of rediscovery that provide hope in the midst of despair.

- Morrison, Toni. Jazz. Knopf. Harlem in the 1920s, with its syncopation and excitement, provides the backdrop to this portrait of a marriage gone sour and the perverse behaviors love can engender.
- Naylor, Gloria. Bailey's Cafe. HBJ. Wry portraits of the habitués of a Harlem eatery combine the mythic and the mundane.
- Ondaatje, Michael. The English Patient. Knopf. Four wounded spirits come together in a deserted Italian villa during the final days of World War II. Three will begin a kind of healing.
- Patchett, Ann. The Patron Saint of Liars. Houghton. Sustained by lies, wonderfully realized characters come to terms with the mysteries of love and loss.
- Smiley, Jane. A Thousand Acres. Knopf. In this contemporary tragedy the lives of members of an Iowa farm family unravel as a dark secret is revealed.

POETRY

- Budbill, David. Judevine: The Complete Poems, 1970-1990. Chelsea Green. Poems of dignity and passion spin a tale of rural folk in a poor Vermont town.
- Gallagher, Tess. Moon Crossing Bridge. Graywolf. Poet Gallagher confronts the immediacy and intimacy of grief at the death of her husband, Raymond Carver.

NONFICTION

- Cook, Blanche Wiesen. Eleanor Roosevelt: A Life, v.1, 1884-1933. Viking. A distinguished and lively biography that examines the evolution of Eleanor Roosevelt from an insecure wife into a committed activist.
- Galvin, James. The Meadow. Holt. A moving tribute to the courage and endurance of four ranchers in a deserted, hauntingly beautiful meadow on the Colorado-Wyoming border.
- Greider, William B. Who Will Tell the People: The Betrayal of American Democracy. Simon & Schuster. An inquiry into the ways members of the power elite undermine the American democratic process.
- MacLean, Norman. Young Men & Fire. Univ. of Chicago. A beautifully written record of the struggle to subdue the tragic 1949 Mann Gulch forest fire in Montana.

- McCullough, David. Truman. Simon & Schuster. An engaging and carefully researched study of the life and times of former president Harry Truman by the eminent historian.
- Minatoya, Lydia Yuri. Talking to High Monks in the Snow: An Asian American Odyssey. HarperCollins. A young Japanese American's search for her family's past as well as her ethnic and personal identity takes her from New York to Asia.
- Monette, Paul. Becoming a Man: Half a Life Story. HBJ. In this strikingly honest memoir, the author reveals the pain of growing up gay and not acknowledging it even to himself.
- Postman, Neil. Technopoly. Knopf. Illuminating examination of technology's pervasive corruption of contemporary society.
- Selzer, Richard. Down from Troy: A Doctor Comes of Age. Morrow. With warm gratitude to his physician father and artist mother, this surgeon-turned-writer re-creates his youth during the Depression in Troy, New York.
- Shelton, Richard. Going Back to Bisbee. Univ. of Arizona. A humorous, meandering road trip through the Southern Arizona desert, rich with description and local history.
- Wills, Garry. Lincoln at Gettysburg: The Words that Remade America. Simon & Schuster. This insightful analysis breathes new vigor and clarity into the rhetoric, context and ultimate meaning of the Gettysburg Address.
