Introduction

History of EBSS

Creation of the Section

The Education and Behavioral Sciences Section of the Association of College and Research Libraries, American Library Association, originated from the interest and planning of two education librarians in 1967, immediately after the summer annual conference in San Francisco.

Barbara S. Marks, then Education Librarian, General University Library, New York University, and Howard W. Dillon, then Associate Librarian of the Graduate School of Education, Harvard University, met at that San Francisco conference and discussed problems that they had in common in their respective libraries. As a result of their discussion, they began a movement to establish a subsection of education librarians within the Association of College and Research Libraries.

Shortly after the 1967 ALA conference, a letter, signed jointly by Mr. Dillon and Mrs. Marks, was sent to education librarians in the organization. The letter, drafted by Mrs. Marks, stated in the opening paragraph:

It was our opinion that we could benefit from regular opportunities to communicate with our colleagues engaged in serving the education community in this manner. The problems worthy of attention are many. We find ourselves administering collections of growing complexity as the media for presenting curricula become more varied. The abstracting and indexing services for the literature of interest to educators today fall far short of our needs. The U.S. Office of Education has committed itself to a major program in indexing and disseminating the research literature of the profession—a program with implications for each of us. How can we voice our concern about these and similar problems and participate in rational solutions to them? We believe the first step is through the American Library Association.

In the same letter, they informed their fellow education librarians that, at that time, there were four subsections in the Subject Specialists Section of the Association of College and Research Libraries, and that:

By petition it would be possible for twenty-five members of ALA to initiate action to form an Education Subsection. Early action is advisable in order to bring this matter before the ACRL Planning and Action Committee at the ALA Midwinter Meeting, 1968. Favorable action at that time could permit the subsection to hold its organizational meeting during the 1968 Conference in Kansas City, June 23-29.

The petition for the formation of an Education Subsection caught the attention of librarians from the East to the West coast, and they joined in the proposal.

From these 27 names were drawn a mailing list for a newsletter written by Mr. Dillon. The newsletter ran to four issues, from November 1967 to May 1968. He did not intend it to be an official publication, but a means of communication during the early stages. At the same time, he conducted a survey of education libraries. In the first newsletter he reported a suggestion from Wayne Gossage that the petition be broadened to include psychology and sociology.

At the request of Mrs. Marks, Mr. Dillon drafted the statement of purpose for the proposed subsection in November 1967. This statement of purpose and scope, which was submitted to the Association of College and Research Libraries at the 1968 ALA Midwinter Meeting<sup>2</sup> was approved:

The Purpose of the Education and Behavioral Sciences Sub-section of the Subject Specialist Section is to provide a forum for the discussion of common problems in providing library service to educators, psychologists, and sociologists.

This Sub-section will concern itself with any issues related to its purpose. Among these are: the collection and indexing of instruments to test and measure intelligence, aptitude, achievement, skills, and attitudes; methods for handling the variety of media now employed in the publication of information, particularly curriculum materials; access problems regarding audio tape, video tape, and film records of teaching and counseling styles; and the presently uneven and limited abstracting and indexing services for these subject fields. The development, scope, and quality of any government, society, or commercial services which publish information or produce products for the bibliographic control of information useful to education and behavioral science library collections will be appropriate subjects for the review of this Sub-section. Consistent with the Constitution and Bylaws of the Association and Division, this Sub-section shall have the authority to draft and issue statements of position on issues falling within its scope of interest.

Appropriate means of communication and discussion, including Sub-section meetings at the Annual Conference and special meetings in conjunction with other library and professional groups, will be considered by the duly elected officers of the Sub-section.

In March 1968, the third newsletter announced the approval for the formation of the Subsection and the planning for an organizational meeting at the ALA Annual Conference in Kansas City. The fourth, and final, newsletter of May 20, 1968, gave the time for a late afternoon meeting, and the first formal program was to be a discussion of educational abstracting and indexing services. The first program featured a panel composed of Harvey Marron, Chief, Educational Research Information Center (ERIC), James Humphrey III, soon to become a vice-president of the H.W. Wilson Company, and Sidney Forman.

The mechanics of establishing the Subsection were devised by Howard Dillon, Wayne Gossage and Barbara Marks at their meeting in April. According to the words of Mrs. Marks in her letter requesting assistance from other librarians, "...in the absence of any formal democratic machinery", they appointed themselves as temporary officers with Mr. Dillon as Program Chairman, Mr. Gossage as Chairman of the Bylaws Committee, and Mrs. Marks as Chairman of the Subsection.

Two committees were formed, and members were named to the Organizing and Bylaws Committees. The Organizing Committee was composed of Barbara Anderson, Lorraine Mathies and Rose Marie Service, and the Bylaws Committee of Toyo Kawakami, Margaret Mattern, and Jacqueline Peldzus. The first draft of the Bylaws was written by Mrs. Kawakami, and it was amended by other members of the committee.

The first official meeting of the Subsection as a recognized body within the American Library Association was held at the ALA Annual Convention for 1969 in Atlantic City. The scheduled meeting was held on June 24 with Mrs. Marks presiding. About fifty or more librarians, representing the subject areas designated in the name of the Subsection, attended this session.

The program of this section was based on "Tests: Problems of Bibliographic Control, Collection, Maintenance, and Preservation", with Mr. Dillon as moderator. The Speakers were Oscar Buros, the distinguished editor of Tests in Print and the Mental Measurements Yearbook, and Priscilla Linsley from the Carl Campbell Brigham Center of the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey.

At the 1970 ALA Conference in Detroit the Subsection sponsored a series of workshops on ERIC held on successive days, and a lecture by Harvey Marron, Chief of ERIC, at the membership meeting.

The Bylaws for the Subsection,<sup>3</sup> written two years before, were ratified at the same 1970 conference.

Archival materials show evidence of three EBSS committees active in 1970:

- Committee on Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (ASCD Curriculum Materials. Chair, Earl Shaffer.
- Committee on Bibliographic and Physical Control of Nonprint Materials. Chair, Margaret Mattern.
- Committee on Psychological Tests. Chair, Priscilla Linsley.

In 1976 Wayne Gossage and Ruth Bauner organized responses to Gossage's "open letter" to EBSS members in the February 1976, C&RL News and ideas generated in "discussion circles" held at the 1976 ALA Annual Conference. Five ad hoc committees were established for the 1976-77 year. Of these five, four become standing committees with slight variation in their titles and charges.

Further, an extensive mailing from Wayne Gossage, Immediate Past Chair, in September 1976, clearly defined expectations for committee members and charges for the newly formed ad hoc committees. The current foci of EBSS are a direct outgrowth of this organization of the Education and Behavioral Sciences Section.

(NOTE: In 1992, during an update of the manual, the archival materials were removed. Copies of these items are located at the ALA Archives at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Library.)

A Turbulent Start to the 21st Century

Written by Kate Corby, 2017

The early history of the Education and Behavioral Sciences Section (EBSS) indicates that the section was formed in part as a response to the decision by the U.S. Office of Education to begin compiling the bibliographic database that we know as ERIC. These Section founders understood the benefit of having practicing librarians provide input to such a project. Over the years that tradition continued to some extent, but there was a long period of relative stability with ERIC. Then in the early years of the twenty-first century a particularly intense period of activity occurred. Upon his election to the presidency George W. Bush initiated a number of changes at the U.S. Department of Education meant to move instruction toward a more research based approach.

The possibility that the Bush administration would make changes to ERIC first came up in 2002 via a September 5th posting on the EBSS-L listserv. Also in early September then chair of EBSS, Kate Corby, got a call from a reporter with Education Week who had heard that the entire Department of Education web site, including the ERIC database was going to be stripped of anything that wasn't empirically based and supportive of Bush policy. The story that ran on the front page of the September 18th (Davis, 2002) issue detailed the "redesign" of the agency pages. It discussed the ERIC digests, researcher prepared summaries on hot topics which at that time were among the most popular products of the ERIC system. The link to these digests was scheduled to be removed from the departmental front page. There was also talk of removing the link to the ERIC search interface. At that point EBSS contacted the ALA Washington Office (ALAWO) for advice on how to respond. The ALAWO was already aware of some aspects of the situation. Their response focused on funding and the legal requirements for maintaining access to government produced information. They assured EBSS that the Department had every right to revamp their web page, as long as they provided access somewhere to meet legal requirements. This would include the ERIC digests, but since much of the information indexed in ERIC was not government produced, it was not clear that the entire contents of the index were protected. Because redesigning and removing links on a Departmental home page is both legal and fairly routine, the ALAWO did not see this as an issue to raise. Yet this "hiding" of the ERIC produced information was, at least initially, a key trigger for a good bit of the media and user interest in the issue.

The response by EBSS started with postings on EBSS-L, moved on to postings on multiple mailing lists and then in January of 2003 chair Kate Corby, put up a web page to consolidate information and make it more readily available. At the ALA Midwinter Meeting that year, EBSS decided to form an ad hoc committee to track the issue. The section's Chair-elect, Scott Walter, selected committee members and asked Kate Corby, who had been leading the initiative thus far, to serve as chair. The committee was officially formed and began its work by March.

Initial concerns were focused on the possibility that the Department might simply stop producing the database, or limit it to items that were based on empirical research. In April 2003 the government issued a Statement of Work (SOW) for a re-envisioned ERIC. The SOW allayed the worst fears, but included a number of worrisome elements. From its origin in the nineteen sixties through 2003, ERIC was a decentralized product. In order not to appear to be dictating education policy, the federal government established a series of clearinghouses to build the database, each specializing in a specific subject. These were located throughout the country, mostly at universities, but some at specialized professional associations. The clearinghouses were all to be eliminated. Instead ERIC would be a bibliographic database produced by a single contractor using computerized record extraction and author supplied abstracts and indexing to the greatest degree possible.

The computerized construction of the index was a major concern, since the high quality and specificity of the indexing in the ERIC database was a major element in its importance to the field. It seemed unlikely that machine generated indexing would be of similar quality. In addition to issues with the core ERIC database, many of the clearinghouses were scrambling to find alternative support for their operations, so there was a lot of news coming from that front as well.

By April 4th the committee had begun work on a number of fronts. Members prepared a background sheet about ERIC to use in contacting diverse media and professional stakeholders. They scoured existing ERIC related websites for data on the use and effectiveness of the service. They looked for interest in the issue and in broader issues of access to government sponsored information from other groups and federal power brokers with the hope of forging alliances. They emailed, met with, and in general reached out to groups both inside of ALA and external to provide information and solicit response. It was a robust, all-out attempt to get on top of the situation that was quickly sent reeling by the April 11th release of the Statement of Work (SOW). Suddenly there were many, many specific questions. While responding to these individual concerns, the Committee also focused on a formal response to the SOW.

Working through ACRL leadership, committee members drafted a response to the SOW that was sent through appropriate channels and formed the basis for ALA's official organizational response. They also very quickly generated a list of areas needing improvement in the ERIC proposal and sent this along to the ALAWO. GODORT (Government Documents Round Table), a unit of the ALA, decided to write a resolution that was passed at the 2003 Annual Conference in June, expressing their disagreement with aspects of the proposed ERIC changes (ALA, 2003). Committee members provided input on that effort despite the fact that it had little hope of being sent to the Department of Education before the final RFP was issued.

On June 22, 2003 the Request for Proposals (RFP) for the new ERIC configuration came out. This provided a chance to gauge the impact of responses to the Statement of Work and there was some good news. Although the elimination of the clearinghouses remained intact, there were additions to the proposal that guaranteed more input into selection by a broader range of subject experts, closer collaboration between the experts and the persons actually building the database and stricter controls on quality and reliability.

Through the next few months the pace of action within the committee slowed, as there was little to do but wait for the contract award to be announced. As the date for the closing of the clearinghouses drew near the committee put together a tribute to their years of service that was passed by the ACRL Board and ultimately also by ALA Council.

After the contract for ERIC was awarded to CSC (Computer Sciences Corporation) and a group of subcontractors in March of 2004, the EBSS involvement turned toward attempting to make ERIC as useful as possible. EBSS leadership was able to secure a meeting with Luna Levinson, Director of ERIC, and Christina Dunn, Director of the National Library of Education, at the 2004 ALA Annual Conference. Doug Cook, who was chair-elect of EBSS at that time, pushed for a permanent relationship with the department that would allow librarians to have ongoing input on product development. An agreement was reached whereby EBSS would host an ERIC Users' Group meeting in cooperation with representatives of the Special Libraries Association (SLA). ERIC Users' Group leaders would then summarize and prioritize the input before passing it along, beginning a transition to advising both the Departmental leadership and the contractor on product development. The work of the Ad Hoc committee ended with the formation of this Users' Group.

EBSS Membership and Responsibilities

Membership

The Section shall represent librarians and others in the fields of education and behavioral sciences in academic libraries, independent research libraries, and special libraries. It will act for ACRL in cooperation with professional groups regarding those aspects of library service that require special knowledge of education and behavioral sciences.

Responsibilities

- To assist librarians in developing and maintaining quality education and behavioral sciences library services and facilities.
- To provide a means of communication among professionals in education and behavioral sciences disciplines regarding information access and other professional issues.
- To review information access in the education and behavioral sciences and to recommend improvements.
- To advance the professional interests and continuing education needs of education and behavioral sciences librarians.
- To be an advocate for the interests of education and behavioral sciences libraries and librarians before decision-making and policy-setting bodies.

EBSS Working Documents

Governance Procedures

Name

The name of the organization shall be the Education and Behavioral Sciences Section (EBSS) of the Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL), a division of the American Library Association (ALA), hereinafter referred to as the Section.

Purpose

ACRL Sections are established primarily for the purpose of building communities of learning and providing professional development and networking opportunities for their members. A Section's name, purpose, and mission are as proposed by the Section and approved by the ACRL Board. The ACRL Board ascertains that overlaps between the mandates of various Sections are minimized. The Section shall represent librarians and others in the field of education and behavioral sciences in academic libraries, independent research libraries, and special libraries.

The Section has the responsibility:

- a. to assist librarians in developing and maintaining quality education and behavioral sciences library services and facilities;
- b. to provide means of communication among professionals in education and behavioral sciences disciplines regarding information access and other professional issues;
- c. to review information access in the education and behavioral sciences and to recommend improvements;
- d. to advance the professional interests and continuing education needs of education and behavioral sciences librarians;
- e. to be an advocate for the interests of education and behavioral sciences libraries and librarians before decision-making and policy-setting bodies.

Membership

Members of the Section shall consist of those persons and organizations that, in accordance with ALA Bylaws, Article I, have paid dues to ALA and ACRL and have selected EBSS. Every personal member of the Section has the right to vote and is eligible to hold office. Any member of the ACRL may elect membership in this Section. The number of “community of practice” affiliations included in the basic ACRL dues is determined by the ACRL Board. The dues for additional affiliations are also set by the ACRL Board.

Relationship to ACRL Board

The Board shall be authorized to establish Communities of Practice (including Sections), to monitor their activities, and determine their continuance in consultation with the respective groups. The Board shall also be entitled to establish policies to govern the activities of Communities of Practice. (ACRL Bylaws, Article XV)

The Board liaison role provides a critical connection between membership structures and the ACRL Board of Directors. This liaison role can be particularly helpful in providing perspective, guidance, and insight regarding ACRL policies, procedures, and initiatives; soliciting feedback from Communities of Practice regarding proposed Board actions; and providing helpful advice regarding Action Plan Proposals and Board Action Forms which community of practice leaders will need to submit for official ACRL Board and ACRL Executive Committee action/decisions. The liaison relationship is meant to enhance communication; it is not an advocacy role and for that reason Board members are asked to liaison with communities in which they have not been active.

The Board of Directors is the voice for the association. Sections, committees, and other established units are not authorized to speak for the association except through the Board. This is to say that leaders should refrain from issuing statements, taking positions, or endorsing any statements or positions except with Board approval. (ACRL Guide to Policies and Procedures, Chapter 2.13.8. Use of ACRL’s Name)

Meetings

Section meetings at the ALA Annual Conference are scheduled by the Section chair as needed.

ACRL units are encouraged to work outside of Annual Conference to increase group participation, efficiency, and productivity. Electronic meetings are conducted within the environment of ALA/ACRL bylaws and policies. In all cases these requirements must be adhered to, although they may have to be adapted to fit the virtual environment.

The ALA Policy Manual A.7.4.1 defines a meeting as “an official assembly, for any length of time following a designated starting time, of the members of any board, committee task force, commission, etc., during which the members do not separate except for a recess and in which the assembly has the capacity to formalize decisions.” Conference calls, Internet chat sessions (and their equivalents), and in-person meetings are recognized as meetings subject to the open meetings policy (ALA Policy Manual A.7.4.4). Committees must confirm all decisions made in these forums by affirming the actions at the next face-to-face meeting.

There is a distinction between carrying on work of a committee electronically and conducting an electronic meeting. Asynchronous electronic discussions by electronic mail or other asynchronous communication methods do not constitute meetings because they are not an official assembly with a designated starting time (ALA Policy Manual A.7.4.1).

Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised applies to meetings of the Section to the extent that it is applicable, upholds the integrity of the voting processes, helps facilitate progress, and ensures equality, fairness, and common sense.

For further information about conducting virtual meetings see EBSS Tips for Virtual Meetings. For tips and resources on conducting meetings generally, see Making the Meeting: Resources for Conducting Effective Meetings.

The Section shall hold an annual meeting around the time of the Annual Conference of the American Library Association. Special meetings of the Section may be called by the Chair with the concurrence of the Executive Committee. All members of the Section shall receive notification of a special meeting at least one month prior to the scheduled date of the meetings. The Section, with the approval of the Board of Directors of the Association of College and Research Libraries, may hold closed meetings or joint meetings with other sections.

The EBSS Advisory Council shall meet at least twice a year, in December or January and again around the time of the Annual meeting in June. These meetings can be conducted virtually, as long as the time and place of the meeting is announced to the membership at least 10 days in advance, in order to adhere to ALA's open meeting policy (ALA Policy Manual A.7.4.4). Whenever possible, if meeting in person, the Advisory Council meeting shall be scheduled following the meetings of the Section and before the final Conference meeting of the EBSS Executive Committee. The Secretary of the Section shall take minutes at the Advisory Council meeting. A majority of the voting members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of the EBSS Advisory Council. Order of EBSS Meetings at ALA: 1) Committee meetings, 2) Advisory Council meeting, and 3) Executive Committee meeting.

Regular meetings of the EBSS Executive Committee shall be held at least twice a year, in December or January and again around the time of the Annual meeting in June. The meetings can be conducted virtually, as long as the time and place of the meeting is announced to the membership at least 10 days in advance, in order to adhere to ALA's open meeting policy. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the Chair. Only elected members of the Executive Committee may vote at Executive Committee meetings, although all Executive Committee meetings shall be open to all members of the Section. A majority of the voting members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of the EBSS Executive Committee.

Officers

Each Section will have a Chair and Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect to ensure succession.

Elected and Ex-Officio Officers

The elected officers of the Section shall be Chair, Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect, Secretary, Immediate Past Chair, and two Members-at-Large. The ex-officio non-voting appointed officers shall be the ACRL Liaison, the Newsletter Editor, the Web Manager, and the Chair of the Membership & Orientation Committee.

Term of Office

- a. Chair, Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect: Shall begin at the adjournment of the Annual Conference and be for one year.
- b. Secretary: Shall begin at the adjournment of the Annual Conference and be for two years.
- c. Members-at-Large: Two Members-at-Large shall serve overlapping two-year terms, with one Member-at-Large elected each year with a term beginning at the adjournment of the Annual conference.
- d. Vice-Chair: The Vice-Chair will serve successively for one year each as Vice-Chair, Chair, and Immediate Past Chair.
- e. ACRL Liaison: Shall serve for a two-year renewable term.
- f. Newsletter Editor: Shall serve a two-year renewable term.
- g. Web Manager: Shall serve a two-year renewable term.

- h. Chair of the Membership & Orientation Committee: Shall serve a two-year renewable term.

Duties of Officers

Chair

The Chair shall be the chief executive of the Section, the Chair of the Executive Committee, Chair of the Advisory Council, and the Section's co-representative to the ACRL Communities of Practice Assembly.

The Chair is responsible for:

1. Serving as an officer of the section and assisting in advancing the goals and objectives of the Section and ACRL;
2. Overseeing the development, implementation, and reporting of the Section's contribution to, and support of, the ACRL Plan for Excellence (<https://www.ala.org/acrl/aboutacrl/strategicplan/stratplan>);
3. Chairing all meetings of the Section's Executive Committee and Advisory Council; attending meetings of the Section's committees when possible;
4. Overseeing the Section's programs at Annual Conference;
5. Meeting deadlines for requests for payment and reimbursement, according to the budget submitted;
6. Scheduling all of the Section's in-person committee meetings and programs for Annual Conference after consulting committee chairs; completing meeting request forms for all committees and programs and sending or delegating sending to the Section Secretary for transmittal to ALA Conference Services Office;
7. Submitting reports to the ACRL Office or Board on Section activities or delegating the submission of finished reports to the Section Secretary;
8. Responding to inquiries from members and non-members regarding Section interests and activities;
9. Co-representing, with Vice-Chair/Chair Elect, the Section on ACRL Communities of Practice Assembly; presenting oral and written reports on Section events and plans to Council;
10. Delegating responsibility as necessary.

Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect

The Vice-Chair assumes the responsibilities of the Chair if that person, for any reason, is unable to carry out the duties outlined above.

The Vice-Chair is responsible for:

1. Serving as an officer of the Section and assisting in advancing the goals and objectives of the Section and ACRL;
2. As a member of the Executive Committee, attending meetings of the Committee and Advisory Council, including the meetings immediately preceding the taking of office;
3. Ensuring that the Executive Committee selects and appoints a Nominating Committee before the ALA Annual Conference meeting. The Nominating Committee is responsible for producing a slate of candidates for Section offices. The Section Vice-Chair may not be a member of the Nominating Committee (see ALA Bylaws, Article III, Section 1.a);
4. Appointing a Conference Program Planning Committee and chair, which is responsible for planning the Section's programs at the Annual Conference during the year s/he is chair; Vice-Chair/Chair Elect may serve as chair or as a member of the committee;
5. Making appointments to all other Section committees for terms beginning when the term as chair begins and for reporting these appointments to the ACRL office;
6. Responding to inquiries from members and non-members regarding Section interests and activities;
7. Serving on the Conference Program Planning Committee for the Annual Conference that will take place when they are Chair;
8. Co-represents, with Section Chair, the Section on the ACRL Communities of Practice Assembly.

Past Chair

The Immediate Past Chair serves on the Executive Committee for one year.

The Past Chair is responsible for:

1. Serving as an officer of the Section and assisting in advancing the goals and objectives of the Section and ACRL.
2. Serving as a member of the Executive Committee and attending meetings of the Advisory Council.
3. Conducting the New Leaders Orientation around the time of ALA Annual.
4. Updating of the EBSS Manual.
5. Other tasks according to the Section Bylaws or as assigned by the Section Executive Committee.

EBSS Manual Updating Guidelines

The Manual is an online document maintained by the EBSS Web Manager. The EBSS Past-Chair is responsible for revising the contents of the Manual. The Manual is revised prior to the ALA Annual Conference and substantive changes approved by the EBSS Executive Committee.

1. Check with EBSS Section Chair (or Vice-Chair) to find out if any committee charges have been revised.
2. Check with EBSS Section Chair to find out if any committees have become defunct or if any new ones have been instituted. Move defunct committees from “active” section of manual to “inactive” section.
3. Update list of Executive Committee members. Current information should be available on the EBSS Contacts web page.
4. Update list of new committee chairs and discussion leaders from the EBSS Committee Rosters (available on website).
5. Add any new forms that have been developed and replace any revised forms. Check with the EBSS Section Chair or Secretary.
6. Check ACRL and ALA phone numbers and web addresses for any changes.
7. Submit the revised Manual to the Executive Committee for review and approval.
8. Give the revised Manual to the Publications Committee for posting online.

Secretary

Serves as the communication link between the officers of the Section and the Section membership, as well as the Advisory Council and its members.

The Secretary is responsible for:

1. Taking minutes at the Executive Committee, Advisory Council, and membership meetings;
2. Sending copies of the minutes to the Executive Committee and Advisory Council members;
3. Communicating with the ACRL and ALA offices as required;
4. Assisting the Chair and Vice-Chair in communicating with the Section membership;
5. Maintaining all Section records, including forwarding materials (e.g., minutes and agendas) to ACRL Staff Liaison and adding materials to the ACRL Archives in the ALA Institutional Repository \(ALAIR\).

Members-at-Large

Represent the Section membership on the Executive Committee and may be asked to undertake special projects on behalf of the Executive Committee or to act as an unofficial liaison to other professional organizations. Members-at-Large are also responsible for coordinating the virtual Current Topics Discussions and coordinating the Birds of a Feather Dinner or other social gathering at Annual conference meetings in collaboration with the Membership and Orientation Committee.

ACRL Liaison

Attends ACRL Board meetings, serves as a spokesperson for the Section at these meetings and reports activities of the Board to the EBSS Executive Committee.

Newsletter Editor and Web Manager

Work with the Executive Committee, Publications and Communications Committee, the Communication Manager, the web page managers, and the ACRL Publications Office to publish the EBSS newsletter and maintain the EBSS website.

Chair of the Membership & Orientation Committee

Maintain communication with Section membership; provide the Executive Committee with periodic updates on the state of the section membership.

Executive Committee Liaisons

In addition to specific responsibilities detailed above, the elected officers of the Section shall also serve as liaison to 2 to 4 EBSS committee/discussion group chairs.

Specific duties include:

- Research and interpret EBSS, ACRL, and ALA policies, procedures, and committee history for liaison committee chairs.
- Bring questions, concerns, and updates on behalf of the liaison committee to the Executive Committee. Report back to committee as needed.
- Mentor liaison committee chairs, especially new chairs, regarding duties, deadlines, policies and procedures.
- Keep current with liaison committees' topics and issues via their email/ALA Connect communications. Advise or intervene when necessary.
- Attend liaison committee meetings as needed.

Executive Committee

The Section Executive Committee is responsible for the stewardship of the Section and the coordination of its activities, provided that it operates within the Section mandate and budget as determined by membership level (*ACRL Guide to Policies and Procedures, Basic Services, 4.2.1*). A Section's Executive Committee may establish and appoint standing or ad-hoc committees to assist it in fulfilling the Section's mandate.

Composition.

The Executive Committee shall consist of the elected officers and two appointed ex-officio non-voting officers.

Duties and Authority.

The Executive Committee shall have the responsibility to act for the Section and make decisions on matters that require immediate action before the next scheduled meeting, and to supervise the administration of established policies, programs, and operations.

Meetings.

The Executive Committee shall meet at least twice a year, in December or January and again around the time of the Annual meeting in June. These meetings may be conducted virtually, as long as the time and place of the meeting is announced to the membership at least 10 days in advance. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the Chair. Only elected members of the Executive Committee may vote at Executive Committee meetings, although all Executive Committee meetings shall be open to all members of the Section.

Quorum.

A majority of the voting members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of the Executive Committee.

Advisory Council

The purpose of the Advisory Council is to provide a forum for reporting, discussing, and coordinating the work of the Section's standing and special committees.

Composition.

The Advisory Council shall consist of the chairs of all standing and special committees of the Section or their designees.

Meetings.

The Advisory Council shall meet at least twice a year, in December or January and again around the time of the Annual meeting in June. These meetings may be conducted virtually, as long as the time and place of the meeting is announced to the membership at least 10 days in advance, in order to adhere to ACRL open policy. Whenever possible, if meeting in person, the Advisory Council meeting shall be scheduled following the meetings of the Section and before the final Conference meeting of the Executive Committee. The Secretary of the Section shall take minutes at the Advisory Council meeting.

Quorum.

A majority of the voting members of the Advisory Council shall constitute a quorum.

EBSS Committees

Section Committees may be authorized or discontinued by the Chair with the approval of the Executive Committee.

Standing Committees

- a. Standing committees may be established to consider matters of the Section that require continuity of attention by the members.
- b. The function, name, and size of a standing committee shall be specified at the time of its authorization.
- c. Terms of appointed standing committee chairs, secretaries, and members shall be two years, unless otherwise approved by the Executive Committee. Terms of vice-chairs shall be one year. Committee chairs will be assigned a Vice-Chair for their final year in the role to ensure continuity of leadership. The committee chair should contact the EBSS Vice-Chair in the spring prior to their final year as chair, to indicate the need to appoint a committee Vice-Chair for the following year. For committee chairs completing two consecutive terms as chair, this request should be communicated to the EBSS Vice-Chair in the spring of their third year. Reappointment may be made for additional terms, but not a third consecutive term; in no case shall a person serve on a committee for more than five consecutive years.
- d. Appointments shall be made in such a way as to provide continuity in membership. To set in motion a rotation of committee members, however, some of the initial members of a newly established committee shall be appointed for terms of one or three years.
- e. Chairs are responsible for sending copies of all reports to the Section officers and, when requested, to the ACRL and ALA offices.

All committees shall report to the Executive Committee and the Section membership through their chairs or their designees at the Advisory Council meetings.

Special Committees

Special (ad hoc) committees may be established at any time for the performance of a particular assignment. No such committee may be continued beyond two years without review and re-approval by the Executive Committee.

Appointments

- a. The Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect of the Section shall appoint committee members from the membership of the Section to fill vacancies due to occur during her/his/their term as Chair.

- b. The Vice-Chair shall name committee chairs, committee vice-chairs, and committee secretaries, as needed.
- c. Special appointments to fill vacancies on committees may be made by the Vice-Chair of the Section with the advice of the committee chair during the Vice-Chair's term of office.
- d. The Vice-Chair is responsible for reporting these appointments to the ACRL office.
- e. The ALA limit for membership to committees is 3 committees, however the Vice-Chair of EBSS may decide to limit membership to fewer committees.
- f. Term limits shall be no longer than 5 years; two terms of two years each, plus one term of one year.

For further guidance on appointments and meetings consult the ACRL Guide to Policies and Procedures, Chapter 3

Non-Performance of a Committee Chair

The committee chair has the obligation to put out a call for agenda items for all committee meetings held (virtually and/or face-to face) at midwinter and annual conferences (and throughout the year); submit the agenda and meeting details to the EBSS secretary and post to the committee's section within ALA Connect; conduct the meeting (virtual and/or face to face) according to ACRL policies; and in general, facilitate the work of the committee and its members. An essential responsibility of the chair is to communicate with the committee, other committee chairs, EBSS officers, and EBSS membership as appropriate. Chairs must also attend the Advisory Board meetings, and if necessary, Executive Committee meetings, or should arrange for the vice-chair or secretary to attend as their proxy.

If these duties are not being accomplished, the EBSS chair will communicate with the individual to ascertain if the individual needs additional support or needs to step down. If the committee chair is unresponsive or does not follow through on communication or commitments to the committee or to EBSS, then the EBSS chair, through consultation with the ACRL Board Liaison can remove the individual from the committee and appoint another member as committee chair. The EBSS chair will notify the unresponsive chair, EBSS Vice-Chair, and the ACRL Board Liaison of the change.

Liaisons

The Executive Committee of the Section may appoint liaisons to other groups of related interest. It is understood that such appointment is for informational purposes and does not constitute official representation of ALA, ACRL or the Section, and that no financial support is implied in such an appointment. The Section must contact the ACRL office if it is interested in appointing liaisons. The ACRL office maintains a list of "official representatives" (individuals representing ALA/ACRL to groups approved by ALA Council) and "unofficial liaisons." The term of appointment shall be one year, with the possibility of one renewal appointment.

Discussion Groups

- a. Establishment. Any group of ten or more members interested in discussing common concerns that fall within the objectives of the Section may form a discussion group upon written petition to and approval by the Executive Committee.
- b. Members. Membership in a discussion group shall be open to all members of the Section.
- c. Officers. When a discussion group is formed, the group chair shall be appointed by the Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect of the Section. In succeeding years, the Vice-Chair shall appoint a new group chair, and other officers as appropriate, in consultation with the current discussion group. The group chair must report to the Executive Committee and the Section membership at the Advisory Council meeting.

Dissolution

A discussion group may be dissolved at its request by the Executive Committee of the Section and shall be dissolved by vote of the Advisory Council if it becomes inactive or fails to comply with the provisions of this article.

Nominations and Elections

To be nominated, elected, and continue to serve on a Section's Executive Committee, a person must be a current member of the Section (with ALA, ACRL, and section dues—if applicable—paid).

Nominating Committee

- a. The Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect shall appoint a Nominating Committee of three members, designating one of the appointees as committee chair. Membership is traditionally drawn from the previous year's Executive Committee, with the past-past chair of the section serving as the chair of the Nominating Committee, and the current past chair and chair as ex-officio members.
- b. The committee shall choose, in accordance with the time schedule set by the Executive Director of ACRL, a slate of only two nominees for each of the elected offices that will become vacant at the conclusion of the Annual Meeting. Representation of both education and the behavioral sciences should be considered in the selection of these nominees for office. If, within two weeks of the deadline date for submission of nominations to the ACRL office the Nominating Committee is unable to identify two candidates for any office, it must request authorization from the EBSS Executive Committee to submit a single-candidate slate. Persons who have served in some capacity on the Executive Committee or Advisory Council should receive first consideration for nomination as an officer.
- c. All nominees must be members of the Section and must consent in writing to their candidacy.

Statement of Objectives

To assist the membership of the Section in making informed choices, each candidate for the office of Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect shall be asked to provide a brief statement of objectives for the Section in time for the statement to be published prior to balloting.

Additional Nominees

- a. Additional nominations of members in good standing for inclusion on the ballot may be made by petitions signed by no fewer than 20 Section members and filed with the Executive Director of ACRL at least three months prior to the date on which ballots are made available.
- b. The petition must be accompanied by the written consent of the nominee to stand for election, and by a Statement of Objectives when the nomination is for Vice-Chair/Chair Elect.

Elections

- a. Elections shall be conducted by electronic ballot in accordance with the procedures and deadlines established by ACRL/ALA.
- b. For each office, the candidate receiving the largest number of votes cast shall be elected. In case of a tie vote, the successful candidate shall be determined by lot, conducted by the ALA Committee on Election. (ALA Bylaws Article XIV, Section 4)
- c. Candidates elected shall be reported at the Annual Meeting by the Chair of the Nominating Committee.

Vacancies

Chair: The Vice-Chair/Chair Elect shall succeed to the office of the Chair and shall continue in the office until the expiration of the term for which they were originally elected to serve as Chair. The vacated Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect position shall remain vacant until the next general election.

Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect: Vacancies in this office must be filled only by election.

If both the offices of Chair and Vice-Chair/Chair Elect become vacant within the same term, the Executive Committee shall elect as Chair, for the remainder of the term, one of the members of the Executive Committee. Both of these vacancies shall be filled by election at the next regular election after the vacancies occur.

Other elected officers: The Chair shall appoint a member of the Section to complete the term of the office being vacated, except for a vacancy in the office of Past Chair, which shall remain vacant.

Appointed officers: The Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect shall appoint a member of the Section to complete the term of office being vacated.

Amendments to Governance Procedures

These Operating Procedures may be amended by the EBSS Executive Committee as long they are not in conflict with ALA/ACRL bylaws, policies, and procedures. Changes to these governance procedures do not require, and should not include, a ballot vote by the membership. Sections may determine their approval process (e.g., responsibility of the Executive Committee, vote at Section membership meeting, etc.). A current copy shall be provided to the Executive Director (see duties of the ACRL Executive Director under ACRL's Guide to Policies and Procedures, 2.3.7).

Guidelines on Consulting with External Agencies

Section I. Purpose

These guidelines have been developed to provide information to EBSS Officers and Committee chairs regarding their interaction with agencies/organizations outside of EBSS. These guidelines are not intended to restrict the activities of Committees in fulfilling their charge; rather they are provided to ensure compliance with ALA/ACRL guidelines and coordinated efforts among EBSS committees.

Section II. Relevant ALA/ACRL Policies

The ACRL Guide to Policies and Procedures serves as EBSS's basic guide in structuring its activities. Policies that are particularly relevant to work with external agencies are:

Liaisons to Other Groups

ACRL sections may appoint liaisons to other groups of related interest. It is understood that such appointment is for informational purposes and does not constitute official representation of ALA, ACRL or the section, and that no financial support is implied in such an appointment.

Sections should contact the ACRL office if they are interested in appointing liaisons. The ACRL office maintains a list of “official representatives” (individuals representing ALA/ACRL to groups approved by ALA Council) and “unofficial Liaisons”.

Endorsement of Publications

ACRL should not endorse any book or other publication and only free materials produced by librarians should be announced. Individuals or groups who inquire about endorsement of publications should be advised on procedures for renting ALA/ACRL mailing lists.

Grant Proposals

Any grant request going forward with ACRL's approval must be for a project that will benefit either academic/research libraries or their clientele. It is mandatory for ACRL staff to do a technical procedural review of all funding proposals submitted to granting agencies, including ALA. Every grant request going forward with ACRL approval must have been reviewed for content and competence and the Board must approve and, where appropriate, forward only one proposal to each granting agency.

Section III. Committee Activities That Require Prior EBSS Executive Committee Approval

In addition to the activities addressed by ALA/ACRL policies, EBSS Committee chairs should also request approval from the EBSS Executive Board prior to initiating or responding to external agencies under the following circumstances:

- A. Written comments on the behalf of EBSS or its committees that are addressed to publishers, vendors and organizations regarding specific publications, products or issues.
- B. The distribution of surveys and questionnaires to publishers, vendors and organizations for the purpose of obtaining information.
- C. Interaction with any consultants either requiring or offering financial reimbursement.

Section IV. *Procedures for Obtaining EBSS Executive Committee Approval

When a committee anticipates contact with an external organization as described in Section III above, the Committee Chair should request that the specific issue be placed on the agenda for the Executive Committee meeting at the Midwinter Meeting or Annual Conference. If the issue cannot wait until a regularly scheduled meeting for resolution, the Committee Chair should send their request to the EBSS Chair who will consult with the Executive Committee as directed in the EBSS bylaws.

In submitting the request, the Committee Chair should submit a draft of the written comments, survey or questionnaire and should also provide copies of any correspondence or minutes related to the issue at hand.

Section V. *Committee Activities that Require EBSS Executive Committee Notification

EBSS Committee chairs should also notify the EBSS Executive Committee when initiating or responding to external agencies under the following circumstances:

- A. Written requests for information about the Committee's activities or from the Committee regarding publications, products, or issues.
- B. Requests for representatives from publishers, vendors, or organizations to meet with a committee for the purpose of providing information.
- C. Scheduling tours or visits to local facilities which are of interest to the Committee membership. All EBSS members should have the opportunity to participate in a tour or visit which is planned by a specific EBSS Committee.

Publication Approval Process

The EBSS Publications and Communications Committee and the Web Manager(s) provide guidance during the planning, funding, and production stages for all EBSS-sponsored publications in print or digital formats (including new electronic or traditional formats). They also clarify, for EBSS members, the procedures required by ALA and ACRL for all EBSS committee publications. This process includes electronic publications distributed via the ACRL or EBSS website, such as web pages, PDFs, podcasts, blogs, etc. which bear the official EBSS logo or other marks. (The charge and scope of the committee have been under discussion during 2020-21. Some revision may be forthcoming.)

Note: Resources such as official committee documents, minutes, web documents for a conference session, working documents or others (such as content placed on ALA Connect, which requires an ALA membership to access) used for a committee's work or planning are not required to be reviewed by the Publications and Communications Committee. Official committee documents are to be maintained on the EBSS official websites or other sources with the help of the Web Manager(s). Publications for public use and accessible via web search engines or broadly to members of ALA or ACRL as resources are required to complete the EBSS-Sponsored Publication and Digital Project Approval Process. For details, please contact the current chair of the EBSS Publications and Communications Committee.

Electronic Discussion Guidelines

(This section was previously used to guide discussions on the EBSS listserv and can now be used to guide discussions on ALA Connect.)

I. Purpose

- A. To provide an electronic forum for Education and Behavioral Sciences Librarians to discuss topics of interest in the areas of Education and the Behavioral Sciences as they relate to the field of Librarianship.
- B. To provide specific information about EBSS/ACRL/ALA activities
- C. To provide an electronic forum for Education and Behavioral Science Librarians to discuss topics of interest in the areas of Education and the Behavioral Sciences as they relate to the field of Librarianship.
- D. To provide specific information about EBSS/ACRL/ALA activities.

II. Membership Guidelines and Responsibilities

- C. Changes in the format and frequency of the newsletter that cannot be made within budget constraints should be proposed to the EBSS Publications Committee for discussion and forwarding to the EBSS Executive Committee.

V. Format

- A. The Newsletter is distributed as an electronic-only publication.
- B. The editor determines size, layout, typography, and other aspects of format.

VI. Distribution

- A. Members of EBSS receive EBSS Newsletter as a perk of current membership.
- B. Back issues are available on the EBSS website.

Newsletter Editor

Association of College and Research Libraries
American Library Association

The Editor of the EBSS Newsletter is a non-voting, ex-officio member of the EBSS Executive Committee and a member of the ACRL Section Newsletter Editors Group. The EBSS Newsletter editor is appointed for a two-year, once-renewable term by the Vice-Chair in consultation with the Publications and Communications Committee and the EBSS Executive Committee. The editor works with the EBSS Executive Committee to implement policy and to coordinate activities with the ACRL Publications Office and its staff.

The editor reports administratively to the Publications Committee. The Publications Committee presents to the Executive Committee budget, policy, and other items requiring Executive Committee action. The editor provides information reports to both the Executive Committee and the Publications Committee.

The editor's responsibilities include: (a) preparation of the EBSS Newsletter, (b) maintaining communication with the various committees and discussion groups within EBSS to obtain information of interest to the membership and others interested in EBSS activities, (c) working with the EBSS Executive Committee and ACRL Publications Office to publish and distribute two issues of EBSS Newsletter per year in a timely manner, (d) attending regularly-scheduled EBSS Publications Committee and ACRL Newsletter Editors meetings at both Annual and Midwinter meetings, and (e) providing a written report to the ACRL Publications Committee at Annual Conference.

It is the responsibility of the editor to revise, lengthen, or shorten articles submitted to accommodate space limitations, rectify syntactic irregularities, and the like. If this involves more than stylistic changes and may influence an article's content or meaning, the editor will consult with the author of the report or article to ensure unambiguous content. The editor may also request that extensive revisions be undertaken by the author.

The editor may also decline to include material if it is not revised to conform to length limitations, appropriateness to the audience, or quality of the material. The editor will consult other members of the Publications Committee and Section officers as necessary.

The Executive Committee and the Publications Committee affirm their roles of non-interference with editorial decisions as articulated in ALA Policy Manual A.8.

Web Site Guidelines

I. Purpose

- A. To make essential information about EBSS, its committees, activities and projects readily available to the membership.
- B. To provide specific information about EBSS meetings and programs.
- C. To serve as a recruiting tool for section membership and committee activities.
- D. To provide professional information as a service to education and behavioral science librarians.
- E. To serve as a cost-effective method of making detailed historic and governance information about the section available to anyone with web connectivity.
- F. To utilize input forms and other similar capabilities of the web to solicit information about selected EBSS activities from interested users.

II. Selection and Role of Manager

- A. A member of EBSS. Up to two other assistant web managers may be appointed.
- B. Selected by the Vice-Chair in consultation with the Publications and Communications Committee and the EBSS Executive Committee.
- C. Serves as an ex-officio member of the Publications and Communications Committee.
- D. Keeps informed of ACRL and ALA web site policy decisions and maintains the EBSS site in compliance with those policies.
- E. Serves as a technical consultant for EBSS committees pursuing web publication.

III. Contents

- A. The site will prominently display information about the purpose of EBSS and ways to contact officers.
- B. Pages created by EBSS or any of its committees, will include a link back to the EBSS home page. Exceptions may be made for forms and reproductions of printed documents.
- C. Committee web projects are welcomed. Once they have gone through the publication approval process, they should be linked from the section pages and housed on the main section server. Any project so linked will include a welcoming front page in the current official EBSS format and will be maintained using the same criteria as the general EBSS pages.
- D. All information must be current to within three months unless otherwise specified in these Guidelines. The Web Manager will consult with the EBSS chair to determine recourse if not able to get current information from committee chairs.
- E. The web version of the EBSS Manual is the official version and must be maintained promptly and accurately.
- F. The EBSS Newsletter, since 2010 is only published in an electronic format.

IV. Format

- A. The manager consults with the Publications and Communications Committee on matters of overall site format and design. Final approval of the design template is made by the Executive Committee.
- B. The EBSS site must conform to ALA and ACRL policies and guidelines.
- C. Between Publications and Communications Committee meetings, the web manager has sole responsibility for determining whether pages on the site meet format guidelines.

ALA Connect

ALA Connect is the workplace for EBSS committees. In 2021, the EBSS listserv was replaced with ALA Connect. Messages can be sent by posting to the ALA Connect space or by email to ALA-ACRL-EBSS@ConnectedCommunity.org. Committee chairs are responsible for posting agendas and minutes to their ALA Connect space and may use the site for discussions and internal committee work. When posting agendas and minutes to the committee space within ALA Connect, if there is an option to mark an item as “public,” please select that option when saving documents so that these can be viewed by individuals outside the committee. The EBSS space on ALA Connect is linked from the EBSS Web site.

Web Manager

There is one Web Manager and one to two Assistant Web Managers of the EBSS web site. Managers serve staggered terms and are selected by the Vice-Chair in consultation with the Publications and Communications Committee and Executive Committee. Upon appointment the Web Manager becomes an ex-officio member of the Publications and Communications Committee, the Advisory Board, and the Executive Committee. Terms are two years, with possibility of reappointment.

The Web Managers' responsibilities include: (a) maintaining the currency of information and links on the core EBSS pages; (b) consulting with EBSS committees on the technical aspects of web projects; (c) assisting with the organization and guidelines for use of the EBSS ALA Connect Spaces and (d) assuring that all pages that are products of EBSS or one of its committees adhere to guidelines established by ALA, ACRL and EBSS.

Web Managers:

1997-1998	Deborah Rollins
1998-2005	Kate Corby
2005-2010	Jessica Albano
2010-2012	Beth Kumar
2011-2012	Sara Memmott (Assistant)
2011-2015	Tabatha Farney (Assistant)
2012-2014	Beth Kumar (Assistant)
2012-2016	Sara Memmott

2017-2019	Tina Mullins
2017-2019	Jacqueline Rae Sipes (Assistant)
2019-2021	Youngsook Choi
2019-2021	Tylar Kerstetter (Assistant)
2021-	Patrick R. Labelle

Committee Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary Responsibilities

EBSS New Committee Chair Information

ACRL Procedures

A key resource for all ACRL leaders is *ACRL's Guide to Policies and Procedures*. Make certain you review it carefully. Particularly useful sections are:

- ACRL Foundation Documents including the Strategic Plan, ACRL Constitution and Bylaws
- Communities of Practice (includes responsibilities and calendars for section officers)
- Budget and Finance
- Meetings
- Publications

Committee chairs should be familiar with the EBSS Manual for Officers, Committee Chairs, Committee Vice-Chairs, Committee Secretaries, and Members, which includes guidelines and the policies of EBSS.

Other EBSS publications that may be helpful are past meeting minutes and copies of the EBSS Newsletter.

Committee Procedures

If you are new to your committee, it is a good idea to meet with the past chair. This meeting should provide information on the formal work of the committee by reviewing the past minutes. A meeting with the previous chair can also help you learn the Committee atmosphere and traditions (Does the group provide sharing time at the beginning of the meeting? Is arranging a lunch or dinner prior to or following the meeting a tradition for the Committee?)

ACRL Office Contact Information

<https://www.ala.org/acrl/contact-acrl>

Use ACRL Office Facilities at Conference

The ALA Office at Annual Conference can provide great support to Committee Chairs. Computers are available for last minute document preparation and revision. The ACRL Office can supply you with copies of ACRL forms as well as information on ACRL procedures. Copies made for committee business can be charged to ACRL at the ALA Copy Center.

Committee Chair Checklist

Logistics of a Meeting

1. Immediately prior to meeting, ask one member to take minutes, if there is no secretary.
2. Start on time.
3. Introduce all members and visitors.
4. Reading of minutes from last meeting.
5. Announcements (time and place of related meeting, etc.).
6. Review committee charge; relate committee purpose to other section committees and to other related ALA committees and activities.
7. Discussion of agenda items, with reports from committee members, as assigned. Committee members should be given copies of any documents to be reviewed; extra copies should be distributed to visitors.
  - a. Keep the discussion focused and the group on-task.
  - b. Establish time constraints, as needed, for each agenda item.
8. If your committee has a secretary, work with that individual to summarize the discussion, set action items and make individual assignments, with deadlines for correspondence or other reports as needed; develop preliminary agenda for the next meeting.
9. Set date and time of next meeting.
10. Close the meeting.

After the Meeting

If your committee doesn't have a secretary, please follow these guidelines. If your committee does have a secretary, please see the committee secretary guidelines below.

1. Send minutes to committee members to edit and approve within two weeks of meeting.
2. Send approved meeting minutes to the EBSS Secretary. Post the minutes on your committee's EBSS ALA Connect space.
3. Approximately one month before the next meeting, send copies of meeting report (or minutes of the meeting) to all committee members, together with agenda for the forthcoming meeting. Post the agenda to your committee ALA connect space.

Preliminaries

- Committee chairs assume responsibility for the work of the committee immediately after the ALA annual conference. Committee appointments also take effect at that time. The first required meeting for new committee chairs and members is the midwinter meeting following the appointment.
- Outgoing and incoming chairs should make arrangements to discuss the work and direction of the committee and any specific responsibilities that have been assumed by the vice-chair and committee members. This should be accomplished at the annual conference or immediately following the conference.
- Outgoing and incoming chairs and vice-chairs should make arrangements to have archival material transferred. Active files are given to the new chair and the inactive files to the section secretary for forwarding to ALA/ACRL official archives at the University of Illinois.

- Members of section committees (ad hoc or standing) are appointed by the vice-chair/chair-elect of that section; ACRL standing and ad hoc committees are appointed by the vice-president/president-elect of ACRL. Names and addresses of committee appointees are due in the ACRL office by the beginning of March. Committee chairs DO NOT make committee appointments but are encouraged to make suggestions to the vice-chair/chair-elect.

Meeting Obligations

- Committee chairs are responsible for conducting any scheduled committee meeting(s).
- Committee chairs are required to announce the meeting time and place of any meetings via the EBSS ALA Connect group at least two weeks prior to meeting, in order to adhere to the open meeting policy of ACRL.
- EBSS requires that committee chairs report committee activities prior to the June Advisory Council meeting. Chairs also attend Advisory Council and may be asked to speak about committee activities at that meeting.
- ACRL standing and ad hoc committee chairs and ACRL section chairs may be asked to attend ACRL Board meetings as needed.

Written Communications

If your committee doesn't have a secretary, please follow the guidelines below. If your committee does have a secretary, please see section below re: committee secretary responsibilities.

- Approximately two weeks before any committee meeting, the meeting agenda should be sent to committee members and to the Section Secretary. Post the agenda to your committee library on ALA Connect. The meeting should also be announced via the EBSS ALA Connect group.
- Minutes for committee meetings should be kept. Copies should be sent to each committee member and to the Section Secretary. Post the approved minutes to your committee space on ALA Connect.

Budget

- Committee chairs will be asked to submit budget requirements to the Chair in the annual plan they submit in September. Requests for use of EBSS funds can be made to the Executive Committee throughout the year and are subject to approval.
- Committee budget requests might include items such as: speaker honoraria, incentives for committee research projects, or other requests that contribute to member engagement and carrying out the work of the section.

Reimbursements

- Each unit of ACRL is allotted funds by the ACRL Committee on Budget and Finance and the ACRL Board of Directors. Funds may be used only for the purpose for which they have been approved.
- Requests made for payment or reimbursement must have the approval of the chair of the chapter/committee/section (committee) to whom the claim is to be charged. ACRL provides instructions and official forms for payment or reimbursement requests.

Meeting Time Slots

- Section Chairs are usually responsible for selecting meeting arrangements for in-person meetings for all section committees. The section committee chairs will not have this responsibility, but they should be consulted regarding the length and number of meetings required.
- Chairs will automatically receive conference arrangement emails. It is important to submit requests by the set deadline. Scheduling instructions are included in the email.
- Room assignments are sent to the section chairs in advance of the conferences. They, in turn, should notify committee chairs and the web manager of the section. Room locations are also printed in the Conference Program available at registration.
- If a committee decides to meet virtually, it is up to the chair to organize the platform and time for the meeting. Virtual meetings must be advertised to the EBSS ALA Connect group at least two weeks in advance to adhere to the open meeting policy.

Tips on Running an Effective Meeting

- Prepare and distribute an agenda several weeks ahead of the meeting.
- Ask someone ahead of time to take minutes of the meeting so that you can concentrate on the meeting.

- Start on time and summarize the agenda so that the committee can focus on the work to be accomplished.
- Take time for introductions including name and affiliation. If individuals come in late to a meeting, take time for a second round of introductions during a break in the agenda.
- Make the meeting comfortable: determine if a break will be scheduled if the meeting is going to last more than an hour.
- Read and/or approve the minutes of the last meeting.
- Schedule action and discussion items and allow enough time for work to be accomplished.
- Keep the discussion on target and encourage the group to move on to a new topic when they seem to be stuck.
- At the close of the meeting, summarize the actions and discussions taken. Assign tasks to be completed before the next meeting and set time and date of the next meeting.
- For more tips, consult the ALA Meeting Effectiveness podcasts.

Committee Vice-Chair Responsibilities

The vice-chair of a committee is responsible for:

- Working with the committee chair to facilitate the work of the committee and its members.
- Assisting with committee chair duties in order to learn more about the committee chair role and transition into the chair role the following year.
- Specific duties will be determined by the committee chair and vice-chair. These may include developing meeting agendas, conducting committee or subcommittee meetings, or providing leadership on committee projects.
- Vice-chairs are not members of the Advisory Board but may attend Advisory Board meetings in place of the committee chair as needed.

Committee Secretary Responsibilities

The secretary of a committee is responsible for:

- Setting agendas in conjunction with the committee chair(s).
- Posting agendas to ALA Connect at least two weeks before the meeting.
- Taking minutes at committee meetings.
- Sending copies of the minutes to the committee for review and approval.
- Sharing approved minutes by uploading to ALA Connect and emailing to the EBSS secretary.
- Secretaries are not members of the Advisory Board but may attend Advisory Board meetings in place of the committee chair or vice-chair as needed.

Committee Secretary Checklist

During the meeting:

- Take minutes and note attendees and regrets.
- In conjunction with the chair, summarize the discussion, set action items, and make individual assignments, with deadlines for correspondence or other reports, as needed; develop preliminary agenda for the next meeting.

After the Meeting:

- Send minutes to committee members to edit and approve within two weeks of meeting.
- Send approved meeting minutes to the EBSS Secretary. Post the minutes on your committee's EBSS ALA Connect space.

Written Communications:

- Approximately two weeks before committee meetings, agendas should be sent to committee members, to the Section Secretary, and posted to your committee space on ALA Connect. The meeting should also be announced via the EBSS ALA Connect group.
- Minutes for committee meetings should be kept. Copies should be sent to each committee member and to the Section Secretary. Post the minutes to your committee space on ALA Connect.

Active Committees

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is composed of the Chair, Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect, Past Chair, Secretary, two Members-at-Large, and the section liaison to the ACRL Board. The Publications and Communications Committee Chair is ex-officio. Its duties include, but are not limited to, monitoring committee activities of the Section, setting and implementing policies for the Section and holding regular business meetings.

Advisory Council

The Advisory Council is composed of the officers and the chairs of all standing and special committees of the section. Its duty is to provide a forum for reporting, discussing, and coordinating the work of the section's standing and special committees.

Awards Committee

This committee honors academic librarians who make outstanding contributions as an education and/or behavioral sciences librarian through accomplishments and service to the profession. The name of this committee was changed in July 2015 from Distinguished Librarian Award to Awards.

Charge: To devise a series of awards, including the name of each award, written criteria, submission procedures, and other documentation needed for the EBSS Manual and web site

Award: In the past, a citation was presented by the EBSS Awards Committee in addition to a $2,000 check sponsored by John Wiley & Sons, Inc. The American Psychological Association funded the award at $2500 from 2019-2021. NOTE: All awards were placed on hold for review by ALA and ACRL from 2021-2024. Awards are likely to be reinstated in 2025-2026 without a monetary award.

Past Criteria: Nominees should have demonstrated achievements in one or more of the following areas:

1. Service to the organized profession through ACRL/EBSS and related organizations;
2. Significant academic library service in the areas of education and/or behavioral sciences;
3. Significant research and publication in areas of academic library services in education and/or behavioral sciences.
4. Planning and implementation of academic library programs in education and/or the behavioral science disciplines of such exemplary quality that they could serve as a model for others.

Past Submission Procedure: Send the award nomination form (available from committee chair, or on the EBSS Web Page), to current committee chair. Candidate nomination packets are retained for three years; candidates will need to be re-nominated to be considered for the award.

Deadline: December 1st of each year

Standing: 1991–

Conference Program Planning Committee

Charge: To plan and stage programs of interest and benefit to members of the Section at the ALA Annual Conference. The committee is appointed by the EBSS Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect, who is traditionally chair or a member of the committee. Program planning chairs attend an ACRL level program planning meeting and committee activities follow a rigid schedule of deadlines and communications with ALA and ACRL, which begins two years ahead of the conference. Specific instructions are always sent to the person designated as responsible for the program. Samples of these are available. The Committee is usually small (3-5 members) to facilitate prompt action and decision making.

Chair:

2004-2006	LeRoy Jason LaFleur and Lisa A. Romera (Co-Chairs)
2006-2008	Kate Corby and Deborah L. Schaeffer (Co-Chairs)
2008-2010	Dr. Lori S. Mestre and Sally R. Neal (Co-Chairs)
