

Call for Nominations: 2025 ALA Presidential Citation for Innovative International Library Projects

The International Relations Round Table is proud to announce a call for nominations for the American Library Association Presidential Citation for Innovative International Library Projects

The American Library Association International Relations Round Table (IRRT) invites you to nominate innovative international library projects that qualify for the ALA Presidential Citation for Innovative International Library Projects. Citations are awarded by the ALA President each year at the International Librarians Reception at the ALA Annual Conference.

~~The deadline for nominations is February 14, 2025.~~ Deadline extended to March 21, 2025. Nominations are submitted to the ALA International Relations Office (e-mail: intl@ala.org) for review by the IRRT Reception Committee of the ALA Presidential Citation for Innovative International Library Projects.

Guidelines for selection of a project

The following criteria will be used in selecting recipients:

1. Nominations can be made by an ALA member or an individual with an IFLA affiliation. Nomination by a member of the Citation and Reception Committee would be considered a conflict of interest.
2. Only one library nomination per Library can be submitted.
3. Any projects that fall within the category of professional development for staff and librarians will not be considered. Beneficiaries of the projects must be library patrons only.

The following criteria will be used in selecting recipients:

1. The recipient will have designed, initiated, and implemented a highly visible innovative library service(s) in a country outside of the United States and within the last three years. The recipient may not be affiliated with an U.S. institution/agency and may not have received U.S. funds in a direct or indirect manner.
2. The project should be unique, original, and improve services to library users.
3. The project should draw attention to the potential of libraries to create positive change.
4. The project must demonstrate a strong likelihood of sustainability and have potential to serve as a model for other libraries.
5. The project must be current, that is, it must be in operation during the year that the Citation is awarded.

Citation Awarding Process

Individuals submitting nominations will be notified by March 14th regarding the decision of the IRRT Advisory Award Committee.

An invitation letter to attend the ALA International Librarians Reception and accept the citation will be issued to the successful nominations by the ALA International Relations Office.

Successful nominations will receive a framed citation from the current ALA President at the International Librarians Reception on the Monday evening of the ALA Annual Conference. The Citations will be announced in various ways including through an announcement on the IRRT website and shared with ALA's Public Information Office.

Funding to attend the ALA Conference is not provided, nor is there a financial award with the Citation. However, recipients requiring assistance with letters of invitation or other documents related to conference attendance should contact the ALA International Relations Office.

Please complete the nomination form below and submit it to the International Relations Office by email (intl@ala.org) by ~~February 14, 2025~~ Deadline extended to March 21, 2025!
