

April 6, 2016

The Honorable Candice Miller
Chairman
Committee on House Administration
United States House of Representatives

The Honorable Bob Brady
Ranking Member
Committee on House Administration
United States House of Representatives

Dear Chairman Miller and Ranking Member Brady:

We write to urge the Committee to markup the Equal Access to Congressional Research Service Reports Act of 2016 (H.R. 4702) during the April work period.

We make this recommendation for three reasons. First, a theme of modernization and rejuvenation underpin both public access to CRS reports and the forthcoming consideration by the Senate of the Librarian of Congress nominee, and thus lend themselves to contemporaneous consideration. Second, the general press of Committee business combined with increasing responsibility for planning the upcoming presidential inauguration may indicate an earlier hearing is more convenient for all. Finally, the compressed 2016 House calendar and an expected logjam of legislation leaves a decreasing number of days where the matter can be considered by the full chamber and reconciled with the Senate.

The matter of public access to CRS reports has been subject to sustained discussion. A group of former CRS employees with more than 500 years combined experienced called for public access, as has a coalition of more than 40 organizations and a dozen free market groups. The legislation introduced by Reps. Lance and Quigley builds off of prior legislative efforts and addresses the concerns raised by CRS. We believe it is time to resolve the issue.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable Charles Schumer
Ranking Member
Committee on Rules and Administration
United States Senate

Dear Chairman Blunt and Ranking Member Schumer:

We write to urge the Committee on Rules and Administration to schedule a markup of the Equal Access to Congressional Research Service Reports Act of 2016 (S. 2639) during the April work period.

We make this recommendation for three reasons. First, a theme of modernization and rejuvenation underpin both public access to CRS reports and the forthcoming consideration of the Librarian of Congress nominee, and thus lend themselves to contemporaneous consideration. Second, the general press of Committee business combined with increasing responsibility for planning the upcoming presidential inauguration may indicate an earlier hearing is more convenient for all. The matter of public access to CRS reports has been subject to sustained discussion. A group of former CRS employees with more than 500 years combined experienced called for public access, as has a coalition of more than 40 organizations and a dozen free market groups. The legislation introduced by Sens. McCain and Leahy builds off of prior legislative efforts and addresses the concerns raised by CRS. We believe it is time to move forward on the issue.

Thank you for your consideration.
