E-LEARNING

Online Courses www.ala.org/yalsa/onlinelearning/info

These 4-6 week classes are taught by specialists in teen services. CEU credits are awarded to those who successfully complete a course. For institutions that can fill a class with 20—25 participants, the courses can be offered exclusively for your group at a time that works for you. Rates start at: $155 for individuals and $3,000 for groups.

Snack Breaks http://bit.ly/yalsa_snack_breaks

A selection of short videos on a range of topics that provide anyone with an opportunity to learn something new or refresh their knowledge and skills. Snack Breaks are free to members and non-members of YALSA.

Webinars www.ala.org/yalsa/onlinelearning/webinar

In 2018 webinars are presented the second Thurs. of each month, and are free to members and non-members. Webinars are 1 hour and all attendees, upon request, receive a certificate of participation and access to the recording and slides. For institutions that would like a special session just for their own audience, the webinars can be offered exclusively for your group at a time that works for you. Group rate for the live monthly session: $195 for up to 10 seats. Group rate for scheduling a live special session for up to 75 participants: $495.

YELL (YALSA E-Learning Library)

www.ala.org/yalsa/yalsamemonly/membersonly

This collection of 50+ archived webinars covers a wide range of teen services topics. Experts from the field will guide learners through hour-long sessions that library staff can put into practice immediately. Rates: free to members, $19 each to others.

IN PERSON CONTINUING EDUCATION

Licensed Institutes www.ala.org/yalsa/face-face-training

Choose from a suite of full day workshops on topics ranging from managing teen behavior to keeping up with what's new in YA materials. CEU credits are available for attendees. YALSA provides the trainer and materials, you provide the space and round up the participants. Rate: $4,500 for a full day workshop with up to 100 participants. Discounts are available for multiple purchases.

Young Adult Services Symposium www.ala.org/yalsa/yasymposium

This event brings together library staff, educators, researchers, youth advocates, authors and others to explore best practices in teen services. and is held annually in the fall. The next event is Nov. 3—5, 2017 in Louisville, KY. Registration rates start at $75. If you'd like to explore group registration options, please contact Beth Yoke, byoke@ala.org.
